This is the ticket which the Hawes majority will nominate:

Circuit Judges—Kinealy, Blevins, Sale, Virgil Rule, W. Christy Bryan.

Circuit Attorney—Carl Otto.

Assistant Circuit Attorney—Ambrose Riley.

Sheriff—Thomas J. Ward.

Coroner—Dr. Daniel J. Hochdoerfer.

Public Administrator — Garrard P. Strode.

BY J. J. M'AULIFFE.

CONVENTION COLISEUM, Oct. 4.

(By Special Wire to the Post-Dispatch Office.)

Harry B. Hawes or Morton Jourdan will act as permanent chairman ot the convention, according to Hawes plans, and Care Otto will be nominated for circuit attorney.

The credentials committee went into executive session at 2 o'clock.

Congressman Butler's motion to make the session an open one was voted down.

At 2:30 the delegates reassembled, but the credentials committee had made little progress at that time.

Indications are the committee will not be able to report until late in the afternoon.

Charges and counter charges of fraud and police intimidations at the primaries were made before the committee.

If the Butler men are defeated they will carry the contest to the floor of the convention. The principal contests are in the Third, Sixteenth, Second, Eleventh and Twenty-sixth wards.

BUTLER WON FIRST ROUND; NAMED TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN

The Democrats of St. Louis met in convention this morning to nominate candidates for various important city offices, among them being a successor to Circuit Attorney Joseph W. Folk, as well as candidates for state senator and members of the House of Representatives.

Following the primary election of Monday, in which Harry B. Hawes, president of the Jefferson Club, representing the Folk interests, was decidedly victorious over the forces of Ed Butler, a hot fight on the floor of the convention, with a view to controlling the nominations, was inevitable.

The convention is being held in the West End Coliseum at 3304 Easton avenue.

At 11:05 o'clock Congressman James J. Butler mounted the platform. He was greeted with cries of "Hurrah for Jim!"

Mr. Butler announced that he had been delegated by John R. McCarthy, chairman of the Democratic city central committee, to call the convention to order.

Not more than one-half of the delegates were in their seats at the time.

Mr. Butler requested the official credentials of the delegates in the various wards as certified by the election board. There was no response.

"Under the law," proceeded Mr. Butler, "this convention must convene within one hour after the time set by the central committee. The time set was 10 o'clock and it is now one hour beyond that time. Nominations for temporary chairman are therefore in order."

Butler Wins the First Round.

Delegate Pat Laughlin of the Sixth ward placed in nomination Justice Frank M. Kleiber of the Thirteenth ward.

A delegate from the Fifteenth then presented the name of Justice Michael Cullinane of the Sixth district.

Judge Cullinane at once withdrew and Attorney Harry Walsh, a Butler lieutenant, moved to make the nomination of Kleiber unanimous. There was no dissent.

Few of the Hawes men were in their seats at this time, and the vote by which Kleiber was chosen showed clearly that in the preliminary proceedings of the convention the Butler men had clearly outwitted them.

Harry B. Hawes was outside of the convention hall when he heard that Congressman Butler had called the convention to order. He declared that the Butlerites had resorted to snap judgment.

"We shall have to undo it at once," said the Jefferson Club president.

SOCIAL LEADERS ESCAPE INJURY IN COLLISION

Farm Wagon Strikes Brougham of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Calhoun, and It Is Completely Wrecked by Plunge in Gulch.

OCCUPANTS CRAWL FROM THE DEBRIS UNHURT

Wreckage Took Fire as They Freed Themselves—Accident Prevented Presence at World's Fair Function as Gov. Odell's Guest.

David R. Calhoun and wife, prominent society leaders of St. Louis, are receiving the congratulations of their friends today on their remarkable escape from serious injury in an accident Monday evening—on the Clayton road, while driving in their brougham from their country home in Mariette to the World's Fair, where they were to be the guests of Gov. and Mrs. Odell at a dinner in the New York building. In the darkness their brougham collided with a farm wagon on the narrow road near the Country Club, and horse, brougham and occupants were thrown down into the gulch at the side of the road, ten or twelve feet deep. The brougham was overturned and completely wrecked, yet Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun crawled out on their hands and knees from the debris, uninjured.

To the Post-Dispatch Tuesday Mrs. Calhoun gave the following graphic description of the accident:

BY MRS. DAVID R. CALHOUN.

I THOUGHT we would never get out of that darkened brougham. We were feeling around for a door handle or a strap to seize and every instant we though we would be killed by the horse, which was kicking and jerking with all his strength to free itself from the tangled hames.

It seemed a century before Mr. Calhoun finally forced one of the doors open. Then we crawled out on our hands and knees.

We had started from Mariette to the World's Fair to attend the dinner of the New York State Commission in honor of President and Mrs. Francis.

We were about two miles from Mariette, near the Country Club, on the narrow road. It was about 7:15 o'clock and our horse was going at a fast trot when we suddenly heard a crash. I raised the window to see what it was and instantly there was another crash and we went down the ravine.

I screamed as the brougham rolled over and over, it seemed a dozen times, and when it reached the bottom with a crash my head struck the top of the brougham.

I didn't scream any more. Mr. Calhoun and I were too frightened to say anything. We just groped around in that airtight box feeling for a way to get out. But we couldn't find any.

On the outside we could hear our men talking. One of them had been hurt, we heard him say, and this added to our fears that we might somehow be hurt, although we could not realize it then.

Then there were crashes, crashes that seemed to deafen our ears as the horse kicked the end and sides of the brougham. I thought every minute his feet would come through and strike our heads. Finally Mr. Calhoun forced the door open and we crawled out. Our men told us a farm wagon had run into us. They had been trying to open the doors for us, but could not.

Just as we crawled out one of the lamps of the brougham exploded and it looked as if the debris would be burned. The coachman's robe was burned, but I believe the fire was extinguished before damage was done to the harness.

My coat was covered with mud and dirt. My dress was torn to shreds. Mr. Calhoun's clothing was torn and soiled and we looked as if we had been in a railroad wreck.

But it was real enough for me. Mr. Calhoun is limping today and both of us have many bruises as a result of being thrown around in the brougham.

Mr. Calhoun and I sat down on the road while our two men went back home and brought a carriage for us. Our horse, Blucher, was badly injured. The horse will be laid up some time, but we hope to save it.

The farmer with his wagon was sorry, of course. He could not help the accident, but he should have provided himself with a lantern and we would have been warned of his approach. After seeing that we were not hurt he went on his way.

We did not go to the dinner.

An inventory of our injuries was taken and we telephoned Mrs. Mack at the New York building that we were sorry, but we could not attend.

POST-DISPATCH IDENTIFIES CREVE COEUR VICTIM

Friends and a Relative View the Clothing and Are Positive Dead Man Is Mark Adams, a Property Owner of Fort Worth, Tex.

PRINTED DESCRIPTION GAVE CLEW TO FRIENDS

Identity Established Through Marks on Clothing—Victim Had $300 and It Is Believed He Was Murdered to Conceal Robbery.

The body of the man found last Thursday niht in Creve Coeur lake was so completely identified Tuesday by means of his clothing that no further doubt is entertained that it is the body of Mark Adams of Fort Worth, Tex.

Samuel Evans, with whom Adams had been stopping at the Union racetrack, took to Clayton Tuesday the clothing of Adams, which he left in his grip at the racetrack when he disappeared two weeks ago last Sunday.

Constable George Walters took the clothing of the dead man from Creve Coeur lake to Clayton and the articles were compared there by a Post-Dispatch reporter.

Among Adams' effects were two handkerchiefs, each with the initial "M" stitched in a corner with red thread, corresponding exactly to the initial on the handkerchief found in the pocket of the dead man. The material of his vest, which he was not wearing when he disappeared, corresponded to the material of the trousers found on the body.

There was also a shirt, on the neckband of which were the same initials, "J. E. P.," as were found by Post-Dispatch reporters on the neckband of the shirt on the dead man.

These are not the initials of the dead man, but his friends explain that the initials are those of a friend in Fort Worth with whose linen he sent his shirts to the laundry.

Any remaining doubt was removed by the arrival Tuesday forenoon from Fort Worth of Fred Farrar, a nephew of Mark Adams, who positively identified the clothing of the dead man as that of Mark Adams.

Says That Adams Had About $300.

Farrar said that Adams had about $300 when he left Fort Worth, Sept. 9, to come to St. Louis. He came to visit Samuel Evans and George Sanders, Fort Worth men who have a stable at the Union track, and it is considreed probable that he increased his stock of money by availing himself of friendly tips on the races.

Adams was 34 years old and unmarried. He has a sister and brother in Fort Worth. He owned considerable property in that city.

It is the belief of Farrar that Adams was robbed by some one whom he knew and that he was killed to prevent him from telling.

The body will be exhumed Tuesday afternoon and after positive identification will be taken to Fort Worth for interment.

Adams disappeared Sunday, Sept. 18, the day on which Dr. Pfister of Creve Coeur says he saw him win $175 at the Big Swede's envelope game at the lake. It was two days later that the broken oar with which he is believed to have been killed was found between George Walthers' boathouse and the tent saloon of Jesse Schrall.

Descriptions and facts printed in the Post-Dispatch led to the identification. They were read by Evans and Sanders, with whom Adams had been visiting and who appeared late Monday afternoon at Creve Coeur Lake, where Coroner Koch was holding the inquest, with copies of the Post-Dispatch descriptions.

Adams came to St. Louis with Benjamin Evans, a brother of Samuel Evans.

The boat which was reported missing by William Webb was found Monday half concealed among the lilies in the northwest corner of the lake by Henry Erbe and Charles Roberts, two members of the coroner's jury. No particular significance is attached, as Webb says it disappeared last Monday night and it is thought that the man was killed Sept. 18.

The inquest was not completed, owing partly to the fact that Webb, owner of the boat found among the lilies, ignored the subpena to appear and testify. It was continued to Friday.

CLOUDS WILL OBSCURE SKY

End of Fair Weather Expected to Come Late Tonight—Rain Expected Wednesday.

"This is just my style," said the Veiled Prophet as he took a peep at St. Louis Tuesday morning and observed the long shadows of the buildings in the bright sunlight and felt the cool wind blowing from the south.

Parade weather is promised until late tonight. After that one must be prepared for what comes. A few clouds will be seen overhead late Tuesday evening. It may rain Wednesday.

The forecast: Partially cloudy with showers Wednesday and possibly late tonight; warmer tonight; cooler Wednesday; fresh southerly winds, shifting to northwesterly Wednesday.

FAILURE OF AIR RACES EXPLAINED

International Aeronautical Congress Hears Reasons From Chief of Transportation at Fair.

Liveliness was injected into the meeting of the International Aeronautical Congress, which opened in the Transportation building at the World's Fair Tuesday, by explanations offered by Willard A. Smith, chief of transportation for the World's Fair, for the practical failure of the plans for airship contests.

Mr. Smith's explanation was in two parts.

First, he said the former French commissioner, M. LaGrave, had failed to transmit to the Aeronautic Club of France, from which the greatest number of competitors was expected, the invitations sent by the Exposition management.

Second, he declared the expert who had been employed to manufacture gas for balloons at the World's Fair had suddenly departed and left the work in the hands of inexperienced men. This man was Howard Lane, an Englishman, who obeyed a sudden call from St. Petersburg and, without notice, left. It is supposed that Lane is now making gas for the war ballons of Russia.

Mr. Smith also referred to the Santos-Dumont affair, and classified the dstruction of the Brazilian's airship as an "accident" and a "disaster." He said the Exposition management had been forced to abandon the investigation into the "disaster" because of Santos-Dumont's absolute refusal to give detectives any assistance.

Another interesting statement made by Mr. Smith was that the kite-flying contests at the World's Fair will probably be held Oct. 17 or 18. Maj. Baden-Powell, a brother of the British commander and the engineer who had charge of the British war balloons in South Africa, is expected to take part, with other noted aeronautic scientists.

About thirty prominent men were in attendance at the opening session of the congress. Lieutenant-Colonel Capper of the British army and A. J. Zahm of Washington were among the speakers.

PAYNE'S CONDITION GRAVE

Heart Action Very Feeble and Doctors Express no Hopefulness in Their Bulletins.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Reports from Postmaster-General Payne's sickroom are that he is conscious and that he asked for and drank coffee, which he appeared to relish.

The following bulletin was issued at 9:30 o'clock:

"The postmaster-general has again rallied. Heart action very feeble.

"OSLER.
"RIXEY.
"MAGRUDER.
"GRAYSON."

At 1:15 p. m. the following bulletin was issued: "There has been no improvement since the consultation at 9:30. Heart continues to be very feeble.

"MAGRUDER."

PHILIPPINE PROBLEM IS ONE OF TIME

Gov. Odell, Speaking in New York Day Exercises, Says No True American Favors Present Surrender of the Islands —Praises Wisdom of Louisiana Purchase.

Like Justice Brewer of the United States Supreme Court and several other recent speakers at the World's Fair, Gov. Benjamin B. Odell, Jr., of New York took occasion in an address on the Louisiana Purchase at the New York day exercises Tuesday to discuss the Philippine question.

Unlike Justice Brewer, however, he praised the present policy of the government and declared that "no true American demands the surrender of these possessions, and the only question of difference between the people of our country is whether they shall be given their independence now or when they are in a condition to enjoy it."

Gov. Odell was the main speaker in the exercises which began at noon in the New York pavilion. He spoke of the wisdom of the Louisiana Purchase and of the inestimable boon the opening and development of the territory had been to the entire nation. After referring to the fact that the purchase was made although the constitution did not provide for such acts, he said:

Doubt, the Coward's Refuge.

"Doubt, lack of courage and insincere opposition are always the refuge of a coward. Here was a nation demanding that which was necessary for its trade, desirous of reaching a solution through peaceful means, if possible, but determined to acquire it at all hazards if necessary. There was no question as to the consent of those whom we took over, and to whom we gave the protection of our flag, or as to nice questions of constitutionality, when the greater object in view was the onward progress of civilization, the building up of hope and the fulfillment of our destiny as a nation, and the perpetuation of those principles which mean so much in the redeeming of the world. The exigencies of a later war found a precedent in the courage of Jefferson, and enabled Lincoln to wipe from the escutcheon of state the blot of slavery which had too long tarnished it.

There is no one who has seen the progress which is here represented who does not believe that the work for civilization which is ours to perform has already had such an impetus that the time will come that we shall bless those who had the courage to stand for it against those who demanded another solution of this important question. To our credit be it said, that no true American demands the surrender of these possessions, and that the only question of difference between the people of our country is whether they shall be given their independence now, or when they are in a condition to enjoy it.

Exposition a Monument.

"This Exposition stands not only as a monument to our progress, but to our united and determined effort to take a prominent part in all that means the advancement of mankind and the prosperity of the whole world.

Wednesday noon the New York commission will conclude the celebration with a dinner to Gov. and Mrs. Odell in honor of Mrs. Daniel Manning, president of the board of lady managers.

At the noonday exercises Tuesday Rev. W. W. Boyd of St. Louis, formerly of New York, will offer the invocation and Prof. S. H. Grover of New York will give an organ recital. The Garde Republicaine Band of Paris played at the state pavilion during the morning.

Gov. Odell and his party arrived Monday noon and were serenaded during the afternoon by the Philippine Constabulary Band. In the evening the governor gave a dinner at the New York building to Exposition officials. The members of his party are Mrs. Odell, Capt. William Kelly of the United States army and his wife, who is Gov. Odell's daughter, Mrs. Spencer L. Dawes of Albany and Miss Odell, the governor's sister.

Commissioners John C. Woodbury, Frank S. McGraw and Edward Lyman Bill and their wives also accompanied the governor. The members of his staff present for the day are: Brigadier-General Nelson H. Henry, adjutant-general and chief of staff; Maj. Harrison K. Bird, military secretary; Lieutenant-Colonel Charles H. Sherrill, aide-de-camp; Lieutenant-Commander Alfred Brooks Fry, naval militia, aide-de-camp; Maj. Charles O. Davis, Thirteenth regiment, aide-de-camp; Maj. Richard H. Laimbeer, Second brigade staff, aide-de-camp; Maj. Ames E. McIntyre, First regiment, aide-de-camp; Capt. John T. Sadler, Thirtieth separate company, aide-de-camp; Capt. Edwin W. Dayton, Twenty-second regiment, aide-de-camp; First Lieutenant William L. Thompson, Twelfth separate company, aide-de-camp; First Lieutenant Chauncey Matlock, Third battery, aide-de-camp; First Lieutenant Thomas Barron, Seventh regiment, aide-de-camp; First Lieutenant Augustus S. Chatfield, Eighth regiment, aide-de-camp; First Lieutenant Cornelius Vanderbilt, Twelfth regiment, aide-de-camp.

ROCK ISLAND GETS ALTON DIRECTORS

Had a Voting Strength of 255,000 Shares Out of a Total of 380,000.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—At the annual meeting of the Chicago & Alton Railroad here today J. H. Moore D. G. Reid and Robert Mather were elected directors in place of F. F. Winston, C. H. Chappelle and Mortimer L. Shiff. The meeting was entirely harmonious.

The new directors were chosen by unanimous vote. Their election brought out the fact that the Rock Island interests, of which the new directors are representatives, came into the meeting with a voting strength of 255,000 shares out of a total of 380,000 shares.

J. H. Moore stated after the election that the road would be operated in harmony with the present management and no change in the executive staff would be made during next year, at least.

There was but one objection to the proceedings. A shareholder, Julius A. Johnson, who owns 100 shares of the common stock, objected to the passing of a resolution sanctioning the work of the executime committee and the directors during the past year.

The report of the Alton for the year ended June 30, 1904, gives the gross receipts as $11,435,853, an increase of $1,344,761; operating expenses $7,524,600, increase $809,-804; net receipts, $3,901,253, an increase of $435,356.

BOY OF EIGHT IS HIS OWN DETECTIVE

Little Edmund Ruhland Causes Arrest of Man Whom He Declares Stole His Ring.

John Carroll of 3048A North Grand avenue is under arrest on a warrant charging larceny.

Carroll was arrested at Ninth and Angelica streets at 9 o'clock last night after a remarkable search for a man who had stolen a valuable ring from a child.

The child participated in the search. He is Edmund Ruhland, aged 8 years, of 3260 Frankfort avenue. At 6 o'clock yesterday evening he was approached by a stranger who lured him into an alley and took a gold ring from his finger.

The little boy told a patrolman of the robbery. The patrolman went in search of the stranger, taking the child along. They walked three hours, looking everywhere for the man who had taken the ring. At Ninth and Angelica streets, a long distance from the boy's home, the little fellow pointed Carroll out as the man who had robbed him. Carroll denied the charge, and the ring was not found in his possession.

Reports Boy Missing.

Miss Clara Feegrader, 1458½ Cass avenue, reported to the police Tuesday afternoon that her brother, Paul, has been missing since Sept. 30. He is described as 17 years old, 5 feet tall, with dark hair and eyes, and wore good clothes.

WATCHMAN FALLS TO HIS DEATH

Employe of Engine Company No. 16 Is Found Dead at Foot of Stairway.

The body of Joseph McCarty, 68 years old, of 3824 Page boulevard was found at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning in the boiler room of engine company No. 26, at Broadway and Park avenue, where he had been employed as a watchman. McCarty had been missed around the engine house and his body was discovered by John Fehrenback, a stoker.

The man was lying at the foot of a flight of stairs leading into the cellar and from the position of the body and the fact that his cap was still on his head it is the theory of Capt. Doran of the engine house that McCarty stumbled while near the top of the stairway and, falling backward, struck his head on the cement floor and was instantly killed.

It was the duty of the watchman to make frequent visits to the boiler room, and as the cellar is dimly lighted it is supposed that he missed his footing while returning from one of these trips and fell to his death. The top step is about 10 feet from the cellar floor.

McCarty was formerly a driver on one of the engines, and had been in the employ of the fire department for 30 years. He leaves a wife and four children.

sponsible for this condition of affairs. My friends want to do this business in a regular manner. Many of them were detained downtown getting their certificates from the election board.

"According to the strict letter of the law Mr. Butler was right, but without the certificates of the election commissioners it was impossible for the delegates to vote, as there are several prospective contests, and, to say the least, I think the Butler men should have waited."

Few Hawes Men Were Given Badgess.

The delegates' badges were distributed by Chairman McCarthy of the central committee, and few of the Hawes men got them. In fact, Hawes was obliged to supply his own men with badges. These did not correspond with those handed out by the committee.

The Hawes men wore white badges, while a neat blue silk was provided for the Butlerites.

Following Kleiber's selection the convention took a recess of 30 minutes.

Mr. Hawes held an animated conversation with "Gussie" Busch, then started in to round up his chief lieutenants. Mike Mulvihill is in charge of the Hawes interests in the city central committee.

Secretary Ellsperman of the board of election commissioners, arrived with the credentials of the delegates at 11:45 o'clock.

Congressman Butler was kept busy explaining his action in hastily assembling the delegates. He pointed to that feature of the Missouri statutes governing conventions to sustain his position.

The anti-Butler forces announced that they would compel the convention to recognize Harry B. Hawes as temporary chairman of the convention.

Butler Forces Threaten Resistance.

Butler men declared they would resist any effort to override their choice.

When the convention reassembled at 12 o'clock, Temporary Chairman Kleiber called the delegates to order.

Secretary Ellsperman had issued certificates to the delegates, all of whom were on hand at that time.

Mr. Butler introduced Judge Kleiber and announced that notary Charles Hannover, who was on the platform, would swear in the temporary chairman.

Judge Kleiber used an Indian club as a gavel.

Judge Kleiber's selection was not disputed. The Hawes men realized they had been outpointed and decided to make no fight. They claim that, while Kleiber is friendly to Butler, he is not antagonistic to Hawes.

The other temporary officers of the convention are:

Secretary, Louis Kunz of the Tenth ward; sergeant-at-arms, Constable Andrew Sheridan of the First ward.

Jim Butler Roasts Election Commissioners.

The roll call of delegates showed that the Hawes men held certificates of election from the election commissioners in 18 wards, the Butlers in nine wards, while no credentials were issued to either delegates in the Twenty-sixth ward.

After the roll had been completed Congressman Butler made an impassioned speech, in which he attacked the board of election commissioners, who he broadly insinuated were in league with the Hawes forces.

He said there were contests in 19 wards, but it would be the height of injustice to let the opposing forces dictate the proceedings of the convention, without regard to the other delegates.

"There were terrible outrages committed in the primary election here yesterday, outrages that 'smell to heaven,'" declared the congressman.

"It has been charged that I had selfish motives in coming here. I desire to say that I have no candidate for any office.

"I want a Democratic ticket that can be elected and he who says not lies."

Cheers for Butler, Cheers for Hawes.

Butler's remarks were loudly cheered. For nearly five minutes the convention was in an uproar.

Mr. Hawes, who was sitting near the stage, jumped to his feet as Butler sat down.

As he mounted the platform there were cheers mingled with some hisses.

"Hurrah for Hawes!" shouted a delegate, and the crowd yelled.

Then someone shouted for Butler and there was another volley of cheers.

Mr. Hawes began by saying that he, too, believed in fair play, and he agreed with the 12th district congressman that the committees on credentials and permanent organization should be elected with a view of dealing out even justice to all.

"If the entire 28 wards were contested here," said Hawes, "who would there be to decide the contests?

"The law provides that the delegates bearing certificates from the election commissioners shall sit in the temporary organization of the convention."

Mr. Hawes then moved that no member of the credentials contest should be allowed to vote in a contest in which his ward was involved.

Hawes' motion carried by a vote of 209 to 39, the negative votes coming from the Butler men, who contended that none of the contested delegates should be allowed to sit on the credentials committee.

The convention then proceeded to the selection of the committees on credentials, resolutions and permanent organization.

At 12:50, following the completion of the credentials, permanent organization and resolutions committees the convention took a recess until 2:30. The main fight between the Hawes and Butler men will come before the credentials committee, of which Hawes has a majority of 10.

The committee on credentials which will pass on the contested delegations are as follows:

First ward, James Duggan; Second, G. R. Mappes; Third, M. J. Keenoy; Fourth, Thomas Kinney; Fifth, Isaac Couran; Sixth, P. J. Loughlin; Seventh, Peter Schilling; Eighth, W. J. Watawa; Ninth, C. A. CONSTABLE "JIMMY" MILES RECEIVED A SOLAR PLEXUS

One of the big surprises of Monday's primaries was the Waterloo encountered by Constable "Jimmy" Miles of the Third ward, who aspired to be the successor of Harry B. Hawes as Democratic leader.

For the first time in 16 years "Jimmy" failed to come out on top in a primary. He was beaten yesterday 2 to 1, but his friends charge "fraud" and say they are going to take their contest into the convention.

Chief Kiely has detailed a squad of 40 police for service at West End Hall this morning. They will be under command of three lieutenants and as many sergeants.

The hall has a seating capacity of 4000, and as there are only 258 delegates the spectators or "rooters" may have things all their own way.

Owing to the long session of the city committee it was close to 11 o'clock before Chairman McCarthy called the delegates to order.

The Butler men have not abandoned hope. This morning their leaders were about early declaring that contests would be filed in several wards, particularly the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Third and Eleventh wards.

As the Hawes men are in a position to dominate the preliminary organization of the convention and thus insure control of the credentials committee, it is hard to see how the Butler managers can carry out any effective plan of procedure.

The question of manipulating the delegates is said to be impossible in view of the decisive number avowedly for Hawes.

The following wards will support the Butlers in today's convention on all propositions:

Fifth, Sixth, Fourteenth, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth. If the Butler-Dwyer delegation from the Twenty-sixth is seated.

Chairman James McCaffery of the board of election commissioners, Tony Stuever and Charley Lemp, the South St. Louis bosses, who crushed the political hopes of State Senator John Sartorius at yesterday's primary, and Police Commissioner Blong met at the residence of Harry B. Hawes at 3515 Delmar boulevard after the primary returns had been tabulated last night and discussed the personnel of the local ticket.

None of the gentlemen who attended the caucus would discuss it except to say that "arrangements were being made for tomorrow's convention."

The conferees remained in session until 10 o'clock this morning.

UNUSUAL INTEREST SHOWN BY VANDEVENTER PLACERS

M. J. Mulvihill, who led the Hawes forces to victory in the Twenty-first ward, says he was surprised at the interest taken in the primary by the Vandeventer place contingent. He said:

"Dr. W. G. Moore, L. D. Kingsland, Dr. H. C. Dalton and other prominent St. Louisans who seldom vote at primaries came out and invariably inquired for the Hawes ticket. We polled over 400 votes in the southern end of the Twenty-first ward, which includes Vandeventer place. It is a decidedly healthy sign when our leading citizens begin to interest themselves in primaries."

"BOBBY" CARROLL DEFEATS ANTI-BOODLE DELEGATION.

The Hawes contingent in the Fifth legislative district, composed of the First, Nineteenth, Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh wards, are in control of the situation and will nominate Thos. J. Leonard of the Twenty-seventh ward and either Andrew Watson or John McDonald of the Nineteenth ward for state representative.

The district has two representatives. Leonard was elected in the district two years ago.

Watson is a deputy sheriff.

Thomas K. Skinner, who led the anti-boodle delegation in the Twenty-fifth ward, was an early arrival at the convention. His delegation was beaten by Butler's forces, under the leadership of Justice "Bobby" Carroll. Mr. Skinner has no idea as to whether his followers intend to file a contest.

CARL OTTO ONCE DEFEATED FOR NOMINATION AS CIRCUIT ATTORNEY

Carl Otto, the choice of the Hawes caucus for circuit attorney, to succeed Joseph W. Folk, is a well known lawyer, with offices at 506 Olive street. He is 45 years of age and has been practicing law for 24 years.

His residence is 5009 Kensington avenue, where he lives with his wife and two young children.

Mr. Otto came to St. Louis from the Harvard law school in 1879 and entered the St. Louis Law School, from which he was graduated the following year. Immediately upon graduation he began the practice of law.

Twelve years ago, Mr. Otto was a candidate for the Democratic nomination of circuit attorney, but he lost the nomination in favor of Ben Clark, by two votes.

That Democratic convention marked the first appearance in politics of Rolla Wells, who was chairman.

In 1894 Mr. Otto received the Democratic nomination for judge of the circuit court and was defeated with the entire Democratic ticket, though it is said that he ran well ahead of the other nominees.

Since that time, Mr. Otto has not sought political honors, but has devoted his entire time to the practice of law, chiefly in the civil courts.

Mr. Riley is 27 years old, and was graduated from the St. Louis Law School four years ago. He has had no political experience. Recently he acted as temporary city attorney in the Dayton street police court.

BLONG FINALLY DOWNS HIS ANCIENT ENEMY, PHIL DWYER

Andrew F. Blong was ill and had to remain home during the primaries, but his followers in the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh wards gained a decisive victory over the Dwyer-Scully outfit, which had Butler delegations in both wards.

Blong has been after Phil Dwyer's scalp for years. They fell out when Dwyer voted to oust Blong from the chairmanship of the Democratic committee.

Two years ago Blong backed Judge Hanley against Dwyer for control of the Twenty-sixth ward, and Hanley had the redoubtable Phil on the run when Harry B. Hawes came to Dwyer's aid.

When Dwyer threw Hawes down at Joplin he lost his best friend. Blong's following were encouraged to go after him this fall.

Dwyer weakened himself by scattering his strength. He started to put Tom Scully in the field against the Blong leaders and they cleaned him up.

McCarthy is a fighter, his face shows it. It is a full, round face, expressive of determination. The jaws are square and the lips thick and tightly compressed. His mustache, a bright red, adds to the aggressiveness of the man's appearance. McCarthy is pugnacious and, when angry, his big steel gray eyes indicate the state of his mind. He doesn't smile much, but he is good natured and enjoys a joke, even if it is on the House of Delegates or himself.

NOT FIRST CONVENTION HELD IN PRIZE FIGHT SHOP

This is not the first political convention ever held in a home of prize fights.

The last Democratic city convention was held in the old West End Coliseum at Olive street and Leonard avenue, which was the former home of fistiana in St. Louis.

The present West End Coliseum is located on Page avenue, with the main entrance on Easton avenue. It was used as a skating rink originally.

Charlie Haughton converted the rink into a pugilistic arena. One half of the area was set aside for the delegates. The delegations were grouped together with signs indicating which wards they represented.

The presiding officers of the convention held forth in the ring used by the gloved gladiators in their pugilistic stunts.

NOTE.—The following article has been widely published and is one of the most remarkable illustrations of the value of careful marshaling and analysis of facts in presenting a subject to the public.

LEVELERS.

The Mission of Whisky, Tobacco and Coffee.

The Creator made all things, we believe. If so, he must have made these.

We know what he made food and water for, and air and sunshine, but why whisky, tobacco and coffee?

They are here sure enough and each performing its work.

There must be some great plan behind it all; the thoughtful man seeks to understand something of that plan and thereby to judge these articles for their true worth.

Let us not say "bad" or "good" without taking testimony.

There are times and conditions when it certainly seems to the casual observer that these stimulant narcotics are real blessings.

Right there is the ambush that conceals a "killing" enemy.

One can slip into the habit of either whisky, tobacco or coffee easy enough, but to "untangle" is often a fearful struggle.

It seems plain that there are circumstances when the narcotic effect of these poisons is for the moment beneficial, but the fearful argument against them is that seldom ever does one find a steady user of either whisky, coffee or tobacco free from disease of some kind.

Certainly powerful elements in their effect on the human race.

It is a matter of daily history testified to by literally millions of people, that whisky, tobacco and coffee are smiling, promising, beguiling friends on the start, but always false as hell itself in the end. Once they get firm hold enough to show their strength, they insist upon governing and drive the victim steadily towards ill health in some form; if permitted to continue to rule, they will not let up until physical and mental ruin sets in.

A man under that spell (and "under the spell" is correct), of any one of these drugs, frequently assures himself and his friends, "Why, I can leave off any time I want to. I did quit for a week just to show I could." It is a sure mark of the slave when one gets to that stage. He wiggled through a week fighting every day to break the spell, was finally whipped and began his slavery all over again.

The slave (coffee slave as well as tobacco and whisky) daily reviews his condition, sees perfectly plain the steady encroachments of disease, how the nerves get weaker day by day and demand the drug that seems to smile and offer relief for a few minutes and then leave the diseased condition plainer to view than ever and growing worse. Many times the coffee slave realizes that he is between two fires. He feels bad if he leaves off and a little worse if he drinks and allows the effect to wear off.

So it goes on from day to day. Every night the struggling victim promises himself that he will break the habit and next day when he feels a little bad (as he is quite sure to) breaks, not the habit, but his own resolution. It is nearly always a tough fight, with disaster ahead sure if the habit wins.

There have been hundreds of thousands of people driven to their graves through disease brought on by coffee drinking alone, and it is quite certain that more human misery is caused by coffee and tobacco than by whisky, for the two first are more widely used, and more hidden and insidious in the effect on nerves, heart and other vital organs, and are thus unsuspected until much of the dangerous work is done.

Now, reader, what is your opinion as to the real use the Creator has for these things? Take a look at the question from this point of view.

There is a law of nature and of nature's God that things slowly evolve from lower planes to higher, a sturdy, steady and dignified advance toward more perfect things in both the physical and spiritual world. The ponderous tread of evolutionary development is fixed by the Infinite and will not be quickened out of natural law by any of man's methods.

Therefore we see many illustrations showing how nature checks too rapid advance. Illinois raises phenomenal crops of corn for two or three years. If she continued to do so every year her farmers would advance in wealth far beyond those of other sections or countries. So nature interposes a bar every three or four years and brings on a "bad year."

nature sets the "leveling influence" at work.

A man is prosperous in his business for a number of years and grows rich. Then nature sets the "leveling influence" at work on him. Some of his investments lose, he becomes luxurious and lazy. Perhaps it is whisky, tobacco, coffee, women, gambling, or some other form. The intent and purpose is to level him. Keep him from evolving too far ahead of the masses.

A nation becomes prosperous and great like ancient Rome. If no leveling influence set in she would dominate the world perhaps for all time. But Dame Nature sets her army of "levelers" at work. Luxury, over-eating and drinking, licentiousness, waste and extravagance, indulgences of all kinds, then comes the wreck. Sure. Sure. Sure.

The law of the unit is the law of the mass. Man goes through the same process. Weakness (in childhood), gradual growth of strength, energy, thrift, probity, prosperity, wealth, comfort, ease, relaxation, self-indulgence, luxury, idleness, waste, debauchery, disease, and the wreck follows. The "levelers" are in the bushes along the pathway of every successful man and woman and they bag the majority.

Only now and then can a man stand out against these "levelers" and hold his fortune, fame and health to the end.

So the Creator has use for whisky, tobacco and coffee to level down the successful ones and those who show signs of being successful, and keep them back in the race, so that the great "field" (the masses) may not be left too far behind.

And yet we must admit that same all wise Creator has placed it in the power of man to stand upright, clothed in the armor of a clean-cut, steady mind, and say unto himself, "I decline to exchange my birthright for a mess of pottage.

"I will not deaden my senses, weaken my grip on affairs and keep myself cheap, common and behind in fortune and fame by drugging with whisky, tobacco or coffee; life is too short. It is hard enough to win the good things, without any sort of handicap, so a man is certainly a "fool trader" when he trades strength, health, money and the good things that come with power, for the half-asleep condition of the "drugger" with the certainty of sickness and disease ahead."

It is a matter each individual must decide for himself. He can be a leader and semi-god if he will, or he can go along through life a drugged clown, a cheap "hewer of wood or carrier of water."

Certain it is that while the Great Father of us all does not seem to "mind" if some of his children are foolish and stupid, he seems to select others (perhaps those he intends for some special work) and allows them to be threshed and castigated most fearfully by these "levelers."

If a man tries flirting with these levelers awhile, and gets a few slaps as a hint, he had better take the hint or a good solid blow will follow.

When a man tries to live upright, clean, thrifty, sober, and undrugged, manifesting as near as he knows what the Creator intends he should, happiness, health and peace seem to come to him. Does it pay?

This article was written to set people thinking, to rouse the "God within," for every highly organized man and woman has times when they feel a something calling from within for them to press to the front and "be about the Father's business;" don't mistake it; the spark of the Infinite is there and it pays in every way, health, happiness, peace, and even worldly prosperity, to break off the habits and strip clean for the work cut out for us.

It has been the business of the writer to provide a practical and easy way for people to break away from the coffee habit and be assured of a return to health and all of the good things that brings, provided the abuse has not gone too far, and even then the cases where the body has been rebuilt on a basis of strength and health run into the thousands.

It is an easy and comfortable step to stop coffee instantly by having well-made Postum Food Coffee served rich and hot with good cream, for the color and flavor is there, but none of the caffeine or other nerve destroying elements of ordinary coffee.

On the contrary the most powerful rebuilding elements furnished by nature are in Postum and they quickly set about repairing the damage. Seldom is it more than two days after the change is made before the old stomach or bowel troubles or complaints of kidneys, heart, head or nerves show unmistakable evidence of getting better and 10 days' time changes things wonderfully.

Literally millions of brain working Americans today use Postum, having found the value and common sense in the change. C. W. POST.

JOIN FORCES TO PREVENT FRAUDS

Chairmen of Democratic and Republican State Committees Unite in Offering Rewards.

To aid in the capture and prosecution of illegal voters and perpetrators of frauds pertaining to the ballot, Chairman W. N. Evans of the Democratic state committee and Chairman Thomas K. Niedringhaus of the Republican state committee, have offered a reward jointly of $300 for information leading to the arrest anad conviction of any person guilty of violating the election laws of St. Louis.

Two thousand dollars for this purpose, $1000 from each committee, will be deposited in a local bank, subject to the joint check of the two chairmen.

In offering the reward the chairmen announce that this is done "in view of the repeated rumors of frauds in registration and voting in this city."

The agreement was signed by both chairmen Monday afternoon and the bank deposit will be made Tuesday.

OIL WELL STRUCK UNDER ST. LOUIS

Find Is Made While Boring for Water and Company Will Develop Property.

NATURAL GAS IS NOW UTILIZED

For Four Months Big Furnaces of Baking Plant Have Been Heated by Gas.

There is natural gas and oil in the heart of St. Louis. For over four months natural gas has kept eight furnaces going day and night at one of the largest baking establishments in the city.

Since natural gas is created by oil and forced out by it, it follows that there are large quantities of oil under the city. It is believed that a deposit has been located and a well will be sunk without delay.

The natural gas well is at the plant of the Welle-Boettler Bakery Co., at Vandeventer avenue and Forest Park boulevard. The discovery that there was gas under the premises was the result of a futile attempt to get water.

Between five and six months ago a well-digger was employed by the company to go down after water. Four hundred feet beneath the surface oil was struck. With it came gas. The well-digger kept on boring in the expectation that oil and gas would exhaust and water would be struck. But after the well had been bored 680 feet the gas came with such force that it was necessary to abandon the water enterprise and be content with oil.

At the beginning the pressure was 500 pounds to the square inch. It came with such force that the derrick and other paraphernalia were blown to pieces.

As the supply seemed constant the officers of the company made arrangements to utilize the gas. The well was several hundred feet from the furnaces, but a pipe was run to them and after experiments it was found that the flow was ample to take the place of coal under eight furnaces in which the baking was done.

Necessary changes in the construction of the furnaces were made and the use of natural gas was begun.

That was over four months ago and during all of that time the natural gas has been used constantly at a nearly uniform pressure of 240 pounds to the square inch.

Knowing that the flow of gas indicates the presence of oil in quantities, officers of the company engaged William C. Pope, president of a chemical company, to locate the oil well which produces the gas. Mr. Pope is the inventor of an instrument which, he claims, enables him to locate with precision not only deposits of oil, but of different metals.

The instrument is constructed on the principle that every mineral and oil as well, has a chemical affinity. This affinity is placed in the instrument and enables the operator to determine not only the location, but the quantity and quality of deposits.

Mr. Pope claims to have located the main oil well on the property of the company. He has continued his investigations and claims to have located other wells in the city.

Mr. Pope states that it is the purpose of the officers of the Welle-Boettler company to begin sinking an oil well as soon as they are through with the sinking of a well for water which is now down 1000 feet. Water has been struck in this well, but it was tainted with oil and gas, and it has not been determined whether the water will be fit for use.

REPORTS CITY AIR CLEARING.

Inspector Says Smoke Has Decreased 80 Per Cent in Three Years.

Smoke Inspector Charles H. Jones says there has been a decrease of from 75 to 80 per cent in the amount of smoke emitted from factories in the past three years. His report to Mayor Wells Monday shows that 324 steam plants in the city have installed smoke-consuming devices in that period.

Railroads are experimenting, he says, with a view of applying smoke-consumers to their engines while in the city limits. Most of the smoke that now covers St. Louis comes from residences and small fires, he states.

The Inspector suggests that a law requiring all firemen to be licensed, as are engineers, would be of good effect in abating the smoke nuisance.

On Oct. 11 and Nov. 15 the following round trip rates will be in effect from St. Louis. Tickets good 21 days: To Nashville, Tenn., $8.00; to Chattanooga, Tenn., $11.00; to Atlanta, Ga., $14.50. For rates to other points write to E. G. Woodward, T. P. A., N. C. & St. L. Ry, 407 Bank of Commerce building, St Louis.

FOOTBALL SIGNALS STOLEN.

Smith Academy Boys Victims of Thieves While at Practice.

The set of signals belonging to the Smith Academy football eleven has been stolen. At the same time several dollars, World's Fair passes and other valuables were carried off. The theft occurred while the Smith Academy football team members were practicing in League Park Monday afternoon.

Two of the players saw small boys fumbling in the pockets of their street clothes, which had been left beneath the pavilion when the team donned football suits, but they could not reach the boys in time to prevent robbery.

About $10 was obtained in cash from the pockets of several students.

CEYLON TEA

Green or Black,

Should be the household beverage of all, particularly all lovers of pure tea. Every grocer keeps it either in bulk or in package form. Insist that your grocer give you Ceylon tea. That insistence stamps you as a judge of tea. A visit to the CEYLON GOVERNMENT PAVILION means a tea treat to those who have yet to enjoy its delightful flavor.

HOW TO MAKE IT—Use half the quantity as of other tea. Use fresh boiling water. Steep four to five minutes.

MR. JUSTICE FINNEMORE

Judge of the Natal Supreme Court, Sends the Following Remarkable Testimonial

TO CUTICURA

The World Is Cuticura's Field, Used Wherever Civilization Has Penetrated.

"I desire to give my voluntary testimony to the beneficial effects of your Cuticura Remedies. I have suffered for some time from an excess of uric acid in the blood; and since the middle of last year, from a severe attack of Eczema, chiefly on the scalp, face, ears and neck and on one limb. I was for several months under professional treatments, but the remedies prescribed were of no avail, and I was gradually becoming worse, my face was dreadfully disfigured and I lost nearly all my hair. At last, my wife prevailed upon me to try the Cuticura Remedies and I gave them a thorough trial with the most satisfactory results. The disease soon began to disappear and my hair commenced to grow again. A fresh growth of hair is covering my head, and my limb (although not yet quite cured) is gradually improving. My wife thinks so highly of your remedies that she has been purchasing them in order to make presents to other persons suffering from similar complaints, and, as President of the Bible Women's Society, has told the Bible women to report if any case should come under their notice when a poor person is so afflicted, so that your remedies may be resorted to."

ROBERT ISAAC FINNEMORE,
(Judge of the Natal Supreme Court)

Thousands Flock to See "Ben Hur"

"Ben Hur" is king of the drama.

There are plays and plays, but only "Ben Hur" can go on, year in and year out, packing the theaters of America as no other play has ever packed them, and performing records in receipts which were unheard-of before Gen. Lew Wallace's story of the time of Christ went to the stage.

"Ben Hur" began its World's Fair career in St. Louis last night. It opened at the Olympic, a theater which seats 2400 persons. The play had been here twice, once for a run of two weeks and again for a run of three weeks. Yet the Olympic was much too small for the throng which pressed upon it last night. Every seat was sold, and people did not stand up in the aisles because the house would not sell them standing room.

The people like it. They sit down and watch, almost breathlessly, the unfolding of the famous story they know so well. They see the three wise men behold the star in the desert; the quarrel between Messala and Ben Hur on the roof; the accident of the tile and the arrest of Ben Hur; the scene in the galley, where Ben Hur wins the admiration of the duumvir; the shipwreck, in which Ben Hur saves Arios; the house of Simonides in Antioch; the tent of the Shiek Ilderim; the meeting between Messala and Ben Hur in the grove of Daphne; the taking of the wagers before the race; the chariot race in the amphitheater at Antioch, where Ben Hur humbles and crushes Messala; the return of Ben Hur from seeing the Nazarene; the leprosy and the awful fate of Hur's mother and sister; the miracle, and the restoration.

It is a wonderful story, and it is wonderfully presented. There is no other drama in which mechanical ingenuity contributes so much as it does in "Ben Hur." The chariot race, with its eight flying steeds actually running upon the stage; the shipwreck, where Ben Hur and Arios float upon a bit of the broken galley—these are wonderful stage pictures.

"Ben Hur" was quite its wonderful self as we have come to know it. It held its audience in the same way and thrilled and stirred in the same way. O, that we might often have a story unfold before us in the theater as this one does!

The big company has changed in some respects since we saw it last. Alphonz Ethier is the new Ben Hur. He is a splendid fulfillment of popular conception of the man. He looks the part in a fine way. He is powerfully built, is dark and young, and he has a good face. Mr. Ethier is no mean tragedian. In repression he is wonderfully strong at times, and in the expression of great emotion—in the scene with Arios in the galley for instance—he rises to the possibilities of his part in a way to command admiration wholly aside from the heroic lines in which he is cast. He is better in the quiet work than he is in the violence of emotion.

Robert McWade, Jr., is Simonides. He is admirable in the part. Henry Weaver is Ilderim. These are the best acted of the principal male parts supporting Ben Hur. Mabel Burt is still the mother of Hur, and she is faultless in her role.

The cast has some deplorable weaknesses. Miss Mae Burgess is wholly miscast in the part of Iras, the Egyptian. She is capable, and a reader of fine ability, but she is a mile from the role of the beautiful and siren-like Iras, and continually detracts from one's enjoyment of the picture. The Messala of James J. Ryan is not good. He does not look the part, and his audience would refuse to receive him in it to any extent, no matter how well he might act it. Looking the part has wonderful significance in "Ben Hur."

* * *

They do some things at the Columbia Theater this week that would make the Veiled Prophet go back home ahead of schedule time if he happened to catch the "artists" at work. Really, it would be impolite to say what ought to be said about some of the "stunts."

But there are some other things in the bill which had its first presentation Monday which would entertain the Prophet or anybody else. There are two sets of acrobats who are worth while, both for the tumbling skill shown and the comedy work done. The Lamont Trio, two men and a woman, are one set, and the Welch Montrose Trio, three men, are the other. Both present novelties which are entertaining. George Primrose, who was end man in the first minstrel show ever given—that in which Father Noah was interlocutor—is another headliner. He presents a singing and dancing act with the assistance of Young West, who can sing, and two boys known on the stage as the Foley brothers, who can dance. Primrose wears a wonderful creation of pink and white satin, and also dances and sings. The setting is a watermelon scene, which could be improved. The Harvey Comedy Company gives a farce which might be worse except for the finish—which couldn't be worse. The kinodrome, with a life-saving scene, ends the bill.

SCHUMANN-HEINK'S TRIUMPH.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Mother of nine, and newly-crowned comic opera queen. Hoch die Schumann-Heink. Gray hairs? H'raus mit 'em. Madame has flown the coop of grand operatic songbirds and fairly out-Russelled the fair Lilliam herself, who sat in perennial youthfulness in a box at the Broadway Theater last night and applauded never a handclap.

But the rest did, and they were a theaterful, for it was Mme. Schumann-Heink's great night, and she reveled in it as Fritzi Scheff reveled in hers a year ago. She frolicked and coquetted, strutted and swaggered, laughed and guyed, and the sparkle of a thousand imps of mirth was in her eyes. Then her mood changed and she mothered the whole audience—Schumann-Heink, the mother of nine.

When she sang the uproar ceased before the feast of her rich contralto notes, for madame's power to charm is no less in the gay scenes and buoyant atmosphere of comic opera than in the stately domain of the musical maestros.

She made a speech, too, and the droll way in which she tangled her English was the electric spark that kindled another burst of merriment.

"I tank you mit all my heart. Ees my Englesh not goot, no?"

Thus spoke madame, mother of nine, and if she said more it was drowned in the wave of applause.

Julian Edwards, the composer, launched Mme. Schumann-Heink well in the comic opera swim with his new "Love's Lottery." Stanislaus Stange, the librettist, did almost as well. If his plot was not of sturdy oak, his lyrics were of willowy grace.

MRS. CAMPBELL AT WASHINGTON

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHIINGTON, Oct. 4.—Victorien Sardou as creator, Louis N. Parker as translator, Mrs. Patrick Campbell as star, Charles Frohman as producer and Miss Grace Benham of St. Louis as one of the cast achieved a triumph when "The Sorceress," in five acts, was given its first production in this country last night at the Columbia Theater. Mrs. Campbell was warmly welcomed. In the second act, where Zoraya exerts her power of hypnotism over the maiden who is the affianced of Zoraya's lover, Mrs. Campbell acted with rare charm and fire. Her love scene with Don Enrique (Guy Standing) was skillfully acted by both. In the fourth act, where Zoraya, before the Inquisition, confesses to witchcraft in order to save the man she loves, Mrs. Campbell rose to superb heights, and the audience gave here eleven curtain calls. The applause continued ten minutes.

Mrs. Campbell's daughter, who is on her first visit to America, was a keenly interested observer. Among the notables in the boxes were the American ambassador and Baroness Von Hengelmuller.

NAT GOODWIN'S NEW PLAY.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Nat C. Goodwin's new play, "The Usurper," was presented at Powers' Theater last night. The story tells of the matrimonial designs of a wealthy American bachelor upon a sweetheart of his boyhood days. John Maddox (Goodwin) is discovered making himself at home on an English ducal estate which he has leased, duke, dowager duchess, guests and all, hoping among the latter to discover his former sweetheart. The morning of his arrival to take possession she, too, arrives on a visit to her aunt. They discover one another at the same time, he ready, ardent, she coldly and the fiancee of another. Events so shape themselves, however, that within 24 hours she becomes the willing bride of Maddox. There is more than the usual amount of Goodwinesque comedy and some pretty touches of pathos in the play. The scenes are laid in England, but most of the characters are American.

Home Missionary Officers.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 4.—The Women's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Church elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Clinton B. Fisk, New York; recording secretary, Mrs. F. A. Aiken, Cincinnati; treasurer, Mrs. George H. Thompson, Cincinnati; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Delia L. Williams, Delaware, O.; first vice-president, Mrs. Jane Bancroft Robinson, Detroit; second vice-president, Mrs. H. C. McCabe, Delaware, O.; third vice-president, Mrs. William Christine Herron, Cincinnati; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Bishop Walden, Cincinnati; fifth vice-president, Mrs. Bishop Fowler, Buffalo.

AIRSHIP "ST. LOUIS" IS THE NEWEST ENTRY

Quincy, Ill., Firm Will Compete in Aerial Contest and Former St. Louisan Is Commander.

"St. Louis" is painted in large letters on the sides of the car of the newest entry in the $100,000 airship contest at the World's Fair.

A former St. Louisan, Charles Laurel, who once managed the Pastime Athletic Club, is in command of this craft. He bears letters stating that his flying machine was patented by a St. Louisan named John Berry.

The "St. Louis" is exceedingly simple in construction, but distinctly original in design.

One feature is that the motor furnishing the power for propelling the entire apparatus is buried under the floor of the car.

From the car a steel pipe runs to the top of the craft—40 feet. Through this pipe runs a belt connecting with two wings.

The wings, or propellers, consist of two blades, each three and one-half feet long. One is almost at the top of the pole. The other is halfway up from the car.

The balloon portion of the sky-traveler is between these two propellers. Its shape is neither like that of the conventional balloon, nor like the cigar variety.

Two saucers placed rim to rim and fastened together would show the shape of the gas bag. The lower "saucer" is a trifle smaller than the upper one.

Like some other widely-advertised airships, this one has never made a successful flight.

But Manager Laurel is enthusiastic. In fact, he is already arranging plans for spending his part of the $100,000 prize.

"We have one part of the trouble solved already," he said to the Post-Dispatch. "We have a perfect steering apparatus. We can operate the craft from the car without any trouble and steer it right or left, backwards or forwards at ease.

"Nobody else in the contest can do that, as far as I know. Of course, we also have to fly to get in the race, but I am confident that we can get up into the air also."

The entry of the "St. Louis" is made by the Berry Aeronautical Exhibit Co. of Quincy, Ill.

A Beautiful Window Display.

The thousands of visitors daily coming to our city are delighted with what they see, and openly express their gratification. Little groups are seen here and there admiring the handsome show windows and commenting in the most favorable terms upon the skill displayed by the window dresser who combines colors and shades and produces the most artistic effects. A display which never ceases having before it an admiring throng, is that of Raboteau, 704 North Broadway. He has chosen for his display countless little cartoons of Hicks' Capudine Cure, well known as one of the standard and best remedies for headache. The arrangement is very artistic and is deservedly attracting much attention.

Aged Business Man Kills Rival.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Oct. 4.—Sheriff Melender of Mora County has been shot and killed as the result, it is said, of a political quarrel. Sheriff Melendez was one of the leaders of a dominant faction in Mora County politics and well known.

THE STORY OF VINOL.

By Wolff-Wilson Drug Co.

Our experience with medicines extends over many years. We've had ample opportunity to watch thousands of them and their results. We've never seen any medicine sell itself as does Vinol. Customer after customer comes for Vinol again and again. That's the best kind of a testimonial. They wouldn't want a second bottle if the first gave no help or relief.

We want everybody in St. Louis to know the value of Vinol and how we stand behind it.

Vinol is popular and it takes because it possesses merit. Vinol contains all the curative, strength-creating elements of cod liver oil, without the nauseating, disagreeable taste and smell of the oil. Any one can take it without making a face. Old and young can digest it. There are many imitations of Vinol made from drugs and chemicals which are said to have the same effect as Vinol, but please remember the makers of Vinol are the only ones in the world who know the secret of separating the curative elements of the cods' livers from the oil and grease, and who can make for you a preparation containing all of the real alkaloids or medicinal principles of cod liver oil and not fool you with chemicals said to resemble the cod liver oil alkaloids. Therefore, there can be nothing else just as "good."

Vinol gives you a hearty appetite. It does more. It tones up the stomach, it builds up the system in many ways. It's a tonic—a blood maker, a flesh creator and tissue builder. It's one of the best things known to medicine for weak lungs, wasting diseases or general debility.

We've sold hundreds of bottles of Vinol and guaranteed them. Hardly one in a hundred comes back to us. If you have not yet used Vinol we strongly commend not benefit. Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., Druggists.

AUTO TRAINS DRAW COTTON.

Feeder System for Railways Develops Staple Industry.

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—Automobile trains are to be run on the wagon roads in Togoland and German East Africa as feeders to the railway lines. The colonial administration is now improving the roads and building bridges with this object in view.

The autumn report of the colonial economic committee says that 1000 bales of cotton of as good quality as the American product have been delivered on the coast from Togoland, and also that a thousand bales of Egyptian quality have been marketed. In German East Africa a twentyfold increase in the production is estimated for 1905.

The committee guarantees a price of 7½c per pound for cotton of American quality and of 10 cents per pound for the Egyptian quality, delivered on the coast, it being able to do this through the development of a fund raised by German manufacturers.

True Meaning.

"Papa," said the romantic girl, "Percy Pink placed the stamp in the lower left corner of the envelope. Does that mean anything?"
"Sure," granted her practical pa.
"What does it mean?"
"Silliness."

AIRSHIPS ARE UNDER GUARD.

No One But Owners and Employes Are Allowed to See Them.

Percy Hudson, chief of aeronautics at the World's Fair, Tuesday announced that, as a safeguard against a repetition of the Santos-Dumont balloon cutting episode, no one save airship owners and their authorized employes will be allowed to enter the aerodrome during the presence there of the five airships now housed there for flight.

The ship of Hippolyte Francois, the French representative in the contest, is shown the most distinguished consideration. This is a big ship and it is given half of the aerodrome. The other half is occupied by the ships of Benbow, Baldwin, Reynolds and Laurel.

Belleville Baseball Team Which Has Won the Pennant in Trolley League

Their Teamwork and Individual Play Have Established Phenomenal Record for Season.

Belleville had a team in the Missouri-Illinois Trolley League this season something like the old Belleville Clerks, who, because they did not know how to lose, kept Belleville's name "up" several years ago.

The Belleville "Bs" have lost a couple of games during the season, but they have the Trolley pennant easily won, and that is enough to satisfy the most exacting Belleville "fan."

Not only the team work, but the work of individual members of the team, has attracted a great deal of attention during the season. Connett, the pitcher, in particular, has been kept busy declining offers with thanks. He has made a record of the phenomenal sort and is badly wanted in the bigger leagues. He has no thought, however, of following baseball for a career. He likes to play, but much prefers to practice law as a business.

Kinsella, the third baseman of the Belleville team, does not litigate during the week and he has not been dodging chances like Connett. His work, too, has been noticed and he has been signed to play in the big league next season.

By winning Sunday's game with the Alton Blues, the pennant was "cinched." The remaining game, Oct. 16, will be played only as a matter of form. At its conclusion the pennant will be hoisted and there will be joy for the Belleville fans.

CENTRAL HIGH AND C. B. C. WEDNESDAY

W. U. Will Play Rose Polytechnic at the Stadium—News of the Local Schools.

Practice work has been going steadily on at all the local football camps and by the end of the week all the teams will have played their first games.

Washington and St. Louis Universities have already been under fire and they have been spending their time since the opening games in overcoming the weaknesses that showed themselves and working out new formations for the games to come. Both teams have good hard schedules and all the resources of their coaches will be needed to take them through the campaign with fair records.

Washington plays her second game tomorrow afternoon with Rose Polytechnic at the World's Fair Stadium, and the players are confident of rolling up a decisive score. Last year Rose was defeated in the opening game of the season by the score of 21 to 0, and as the myrtle and maroon has had the benefit of one game this year they should beat the Terre Haute team.

C. B. C. and Central High will also play tomorrow, both teams making their '04 debuts on the college campus. The game should be a good one, as the teams are evenly matched and though C. B. C. will have the advantage of a coach and the results of longer training, injuries to some of their good players and the light weight of the squad will offset their advantages in other respects.

Smith Academy is at last rounding into some sort of shape and will soon be ready for a real scrimmage. The squad was out at League Park yesterday and went through the usual preliminary stunts under the direction of Coach Everhardt. The difficulties with the team so far have been greenness of the material and lack of practice grounds. The team has finally arranged for the use of League Park, where the Washington bunch is holding forth every day, and under the steady coaching of alumni players and with the advantage of an occasional scrimmage with Coach Boynton's squad they should be in good shape for the opening game.

TURF TALK

The Western Jockey Club, at its monthly meeting yesterday in Chicago, declined to reinstate any of the Union horsemen, jockeys or horses. The Western Jockey Club is determined to enforce its rules hereafter and no leniency will be shown those who take part in unsanctioned meetings.

Dick Williams, Barney Schreiber's old trainer, has a mightly useful plater in Jake Greenberg, the Julien gelding, which has been winning with great regularity at Delmar lately. Jake Greenberg simply breezed over King Rose and Miss Manners.

New Orleans will be the scene of a lively racetrack clash the coming season. The Crescent City Jockey Club has just announced its list of stakes for the coming meeting. The club gives it out cold that there will be 100 days' racing at the old track commencing with Thanksgiving Day in November. No dates are left open for "Curley" Brown's new course, now being constructed. Charles S. Bush and his associates are evidently prepared for a clash and it will be a case of the survival of the fittest. The Crescent City Jockey Club's sanction. Mr. Bush is one of the W. J. C. stewards.

NEW YORK ALL DEMOCRATS.

So Timothy (Dry Dollar) Sullivan Tells Alton B. Parker.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Timothy D. Sullivan, representative in Congress, and Timothy P. Sullivan, vice-chairman of the board of aldermen, both of New York, spent half an hour with Judge ... today. Representative Sullivan ... Judge Parker he is wasting his ... New York, as the city has ... Democrats.

NEW FAN RECORD IN "MAJOR LEAGUE"

Christy Mathewson Struck Out 16 Men in Third Game of Cardinal-Giant Series.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The St. Louis Cardinals lost the third game of the series with New York yesterday, the score being 3 to 1. Christy Mathewson, the Giants' crack twirler, established a new record for strikeouts, causing 16 of Nichols' men to fan the air in vain.

Manager Nichols pitched the game for his team, and he twirled splendid ball for seven innings. It seemed that New York would be defeated notwithstanding Mathewson's record-breaking work, but in the eighth inning, two doubles and a single, aided by errors on the part of Brain and Shay, netted three runs to New York, and the game was won.

An interesting feature of the game was the appearance in a New York uniform of Dan Brouthers, the famous slugger, who worried young pitchers in the early nineties. Brouthers proved that his batting eye is as good as ever by landing on the ball every time up, going out on hard-line drives. He also fielded his position in a satisfactory way.

The Cardinals and New Yorks will play a double-header this afternoon.

JOCKEY'S JAWS EXCITE WRATH

Starter at Delmar Racetrack Bars Riders From Gum Chewing and Cigarettes.

Starter A. Barrett Dade of Delmar track has created confusion among young jockeys riding under him by placing an embargo on chewing gum and cigarettes. On Saturday Jockeys Rice, Howell and McLaughlin, three of the most promising young riders, lined up before the starter with their jaws working like trip hammers.

"Cut that gum-chewing out and pay more attention to me," remarked Mr. Dade to one of the lads. "You boys want to be more careful at the post. Thousand of dollars risked on your mounts by betters and you ought to be more alert.

"This namby-pamby business must stop. Keep your eye on the gun. You boys get bigger money for riding horses than United States senators and congressmen draw for making laws. I intend to see that you toe the mark while you ride under me. No more gum-chewing goes and cigarette smoking must be cut out between races."

YALE ELEVEN FALLING OFF

Yesterday's Showing Against Scrubs Was Not Up to Standard Looked For.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 4.—The Yale team was given a long and tiresome practice yesterday afternoon, in spite of the hard work of the Wesleyan game. Kinney and Tripp, the big guards, were out for the first time in a week, having successfully passed off some conditions which it had been feared would keep them off the squad.

Shevlin was given his first trying out at fullback in scrimmage work.

The varsity had hard work driving the scrubs down the field yesterday, and made only one touchdown in half an hour's work. After heavy backfield attacks had forced the second eleven down 40 yards of the field the scrubs took a sudden brace on their own two-yard line and got the ball on a fumble.

In spite of all the work the regulars could put into the next series of defense plays the scrubs bucked the big fellows clear over their side of the field, and shot Hoyt across for a touchdown. It was the first falling off of the varsity this year, and made the coaches think a little. Kineon and Harold Turner, who played guards Wednesday against Wesleyan, were transferred to tackles yesterday.

BROWNS GET BACK TO FORM AGAIN

Brief Spasm of Championship Work Died With Defeat in Opening Game of the New York Series.

An attack of their old ailment, inability to hit the ball safely at the proper time caused the Browns to lose the opening game with New York yesterday, the score being 3 to 0.

Al Orth, Griffith's Washington purchase, started in to twirl for the Highlanders, but for some unexplainable reason he was taken out in the sixth inning, Manager Griffith going into the box. Orth allowed but two hits during the five and one-half innings he pitched and did not issue a pass. Griffith began by walking Howell, but later steadied down, fanning three and being topped for but two hits.

Harry Howell served the benders for St. Louis, and his wildness, backed by some loose fielding enabled the visitors to tally three runs, which was more than enough.

The only exciting feature of the game was the banishment of Capt. Padden in the eighth inning for holding heated converse with Umpire King over a decision. Gleason, the midget infielder who has not performed since his injury six weeks ago, was substituted at second.

Burkett was the batting star for St. Louis, getting the only two hits made off Orth and being responsible for St. Louis' only chance to score.

Pat Dougherty, for New York, was the particular crack. The ex-Bostonian got three hits and walked once out of five times up, and performed perfectly in the field.

In the fourth inning, the Browns had their best opportunity to score. Burkett began with a double and was neatly sacrificed to third by Heidrick. This did not worry Orth, however, for he caused Wallace to send a weak tap to Conroy, and coaxed Hines to give Dougherty a put-out.

The first run of the game came in the fourth inning after two were down. Ganzel received a hard one in the back and tallied a moment later on Conroy's triple to right-center. In the seventh, Dougherty's single, Keeler's sacrifice and a safe hit by Elberfeld netted a second run for the Highlanders.

The final score was made in the eighth when Ganzel singled and was advanced when Conroy was hit by a pitched ball. Elberfeld followed with a hit to Padden, who tossed to Wallace, nipping Conroy. While Wallace tried for a double play to Jones, Ganzel made for the plate and was safe ahead of Jones' throw to Sugden. It was for his doubts about this decision that Padden was forced to retire.

Jockey Piggott Fatally Hurt.

ROSTOF-ON-THE-DON, Russia, Oct. 4.—The American jockey, "Joe" Piggott, has been fatally injured in the races here.

Piggott began riding in California and rode at the St. Louis tracks for some time. While here he was under contract to the Burns and Waterhouse stable.

P. J. Millett's Miss Doyle by The Commoner is the best 2-year-old filly in training on the St. Louis tracks. She defeated Extol and Taby Tosa yesterday, coming from behind and outgaming Extol at the finish. With the exception of Tokalon, Miss Doyle is the filly of her age in the West.

VARICOCELE

CHAS. A. DUFF, M. D.
I am a Varicocele Specialist, Not a Pretentious "Cure-All."

The only known method that cures the disease at once without a surgical operation, loss of blood, the least bit of pain and not interfering with occupation.

My treatment by Acupuncture and Absorption checks the overflow of blood to the scrotal veins and removes the stagnant blood that obstructs the circulation, so that the ganglionic nerves, the weakness of which causes varicocele, are restored to strength, and normal circulation to the organs is resumed without a sign or symptom of Varicocele ever returning.

In treating Varicocele it is always necessary to cure the complications, if the disease has been neglected, which are often worse than the cause, and I never dismiss a patient until I have restored the organs to their natural size, strength and soundness, revitalized the nervous system so that nervousness disappears, stopped all vital drains and emissions and revived sexual power and renewed the body with a robust condition and perfect health.

There are thousands of men deceived by unskilled doctors who claim to cure Varicocele by application of medicines, electricity, suspensories and many other deceptive schemes, and this is why there are so many who have become so skeptical as to think there is no cure for them. There never was a cure for Varicocele except by surgical operation or my methods. Surgical operations are often dangerous, unsuccessful and painful.

CURE OR NO CHARGE — Absolutely no charge unless satisfaction is given. Every patient receives a written guarantee to refund every dollar paid for services if in a specified length of time they do not receive a complete, lifelong cure and entire satisfaction, and my well-known financial standing is sufficient evidence to any one that I am entirely responsible for any contract that is not fulfilled.

Consultation Free, Confidential and Invited, both at office and by correspondence. Successful treatment by mail. Terms are always made to suit the convenience of any one applying for treatment, and very reasonable charges. Do not treat elsewhere until you have investigated my methods and terms. Office hours during week, 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.; Sundays, 9 to 1.

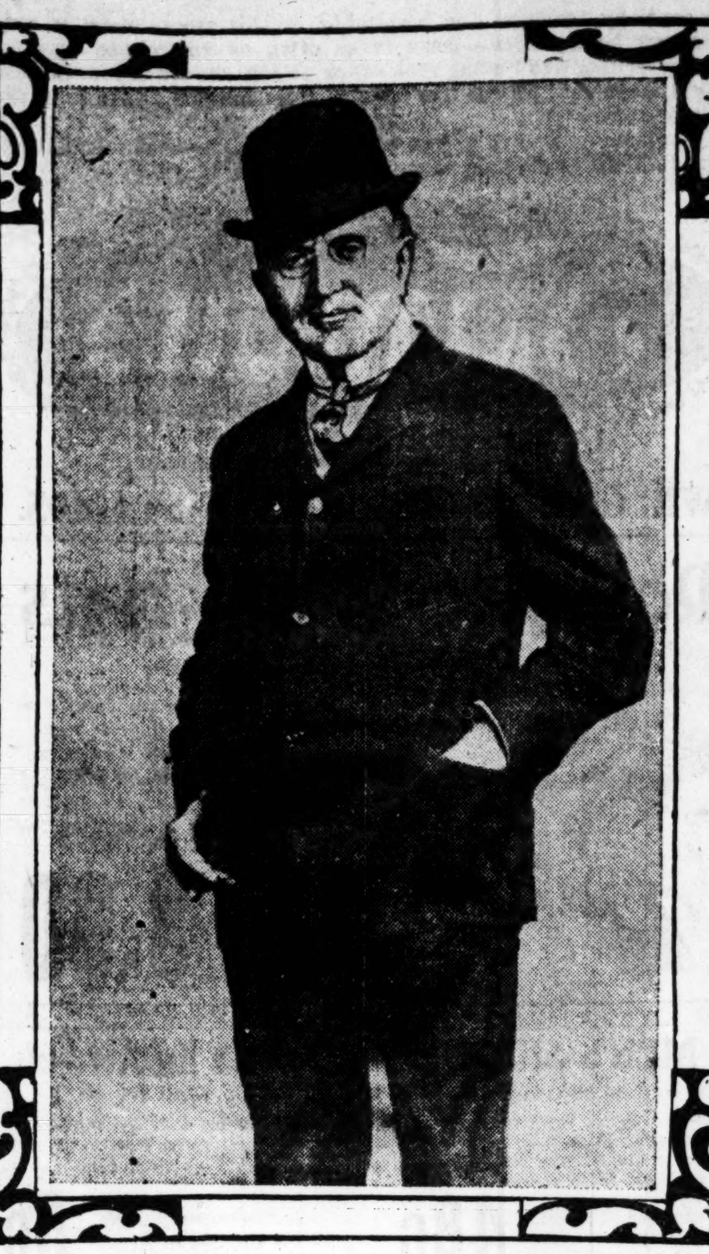
This Is Sammy Newhouse, Former Teamster, Now Spending Part of His Millions at the Fair



"Sammy" Newhouse, Utah World's Fair Commissioner, Once Worked With Pick and Shovel.

SAMUEL NEWHOUSE, affectionately known as "Sammy," one of Utah's multi-millionaires—the former teamster who made $6,000,000 by finding copper where others sought gold, and who bought the Flatiron building in New York for $1,600,000 on Tuesday and sold it on Thursday for $2,000,000—spent all of last week in St. Louis without making a "deal." He left Saturday night for Salt Lake City, declaring his time in St. Louis—which he put in seeing the World's Fair—well spent. He and his wife will return later for a longer visit.

Mr. Newhouse came unheralded, and left in the same way. His only companion was his valet, and he had rooms at the Jefferson Hotel. His wife did not join him here, but is bound from her London home to New York. From thence she will hurry to Denver, where Mr. Newhouse will meet her.

Mr. Newhouse is one of Utah's World's Fair commissioners, and has taken an active interest in that state's exhibit.

He made his money in buying and selling western mines. His "big strike" was with the Highland Boy mine in Bingham Canyon. It was being worked unprofitably for gold. Newhouse decided that its owners were wasting a fortune in copper trying to get at the gold. He secured an option for $115,000, went to London and procured the money, bought the mine, and two years later sold a half interest in it to the Standard Oil Co. for $6,000,000.

He has homes in Salt Lake City, New York and London. He spends most of his time at Salt Lake City. His wife lives the greater part of the time in London and their meetings are chiefly in New York.

ENGINEERS MEET IN SECTIONS

Regular Sessions of International Congress Held at Fair.

The second days' session of the International Engineers' Congress opened Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the World's Fair. The eight sections into which the convention was divided convened in different rooms in the Hall of Congresses. One session of each section is being held today. At the opening session Monday, President Charles Hermany of Louisville addressed the delegates.

After the meeting of the international congress, the American Society of Civil Engineers, under whose auspices the congress is being held, also met in Congress hall at 2:30 p. m. Monday. The question of the next meeting place was left with the board of directors, who meet in New York in January.

PHYSICIAN SUES FOR $25,000

New York Editor Asked to Pay Big Sum for Medical Services.

Suit has been filed in circuit court by Dr. M. P. Morrell, 3605 Lindell boulevard, against Joseph J. Lawrence of New York, editor of the Medical Brief, for $25,000, which amount he says is due him for treatment of Lawrence's son, Frank Lawrence, from Aug. 1, 1900, to Nov. 4, 1900.

A similar suit for $16,000 for medical services was decided some time ago by Judge Ryan of the circuit court against the plaintiff. Services in this suit were alleged to be from June 1, 1902, to July 10, 1902. An appeal to the Supreme Court is now pending.

Dr. Morrell sets forth that he was the medical attendant of young Lawrence for several years and remained so until his death, sacrificing some of his city practice.

Michigan state building at Louisiana Purchase Exposition, a cement-staff building, maple floors throughout, oak finish, electric fixtures, plumbing and bath, water cooler, fountain and filter, shades, curtains, screens, will be sold to the highest bidder at 1 o'clock, Oct. 15, 1904, by the Michigan state commission. Address bids to Hal H. Smith, secretary Michigan state building, World's Fair. Privilege of refusing any or all bids reserved. Possession of the building will be given Feb. 1, 1905.

OFFICER REFUSED THE REWARD

Mrs. Rufus T. Scott, wife of a Paris, Tex., banker, is making every effort to learn the identity of a policeman who recovered her jewels valued at nearly $1000, and who refused to accept any reward.

As Mrs. Scott was leaving the World's Fair she noticed that a diamond brooch and her watch were missing. Leaving the car she began a search about the loop for the missing jewelry. A policeman found the jewelry near one of the exits and returned it to her.

She offered a reward, but the officer refused to accept it.

A Popular Piano Event—Our Annual Clearing Sale Ends in Four Days.
Our Annual Fall Clearing Sale of new, store-worn and exchanged Pianos at extraordinary bargain prices has been most successful. A great many Pianos have been cleared out, a great many childish hearts made happy, and homes made musical.
We have made it possible at this sale for many people to supply their families with Pianos who, at regular prices and on regular terms, had felt that a Piano was beyond their reach. We have not only reduced the prices on many styles and many makes to a point where people of very small means could purchase, but have also made the terms so easy that none need hesitate, for if you can spare $1.25 to $2.50 per week you can have one of these good Pianos at nearly half price sent to your home, and have the use of it while you save the balance, little by little, to complete the payment.
Only Four Days More of the Sale.
Now the Sale is drawing to a close, and while there is still a fair assortment of these special bargains on hand yet, it will pay to hurry to secure good choice if the saving of a goodly sum of money is an object.

"FOOTBALL"
Remarks Sammy Shoestrings "means Fall. Both are here now. Both have a bearing on one's attire. The understanding is that new, warm, heavier shoes are to be added to one's wardrobe—and put on one's 'understandings.' It's also pretty well understood by this time (at least I've been trying for over six months to make you understand it) that Burt's 'Korrect Shape' Shoes are easily the best men's shoes you can buy, beg, borrow or steal. Their superiority commences in their Rock-Oak Soles and keeps right on up. They end better because they're commenced better." The prices are $3.50 and $4.00.

CALLS DEWEY'S VICTORY "ACCIDENT"

Roosevelt's Governor in Philippines Assures Officials They Are Not Ready for Independence.

HE SPEAKS OF SPANISH RULE

Natives Who Visited United States, With One Exception, Plead for Self-Government.

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 4.—The Federal party has given a banquet to the delegates of leading native officers of the Archipelago who have recently returned from a visit to the United States. In their speeches the members of the delegation spok in generous praise of the treatment accorded them in the United States. Each touched on the independence movement and made an urgent plea for a popular assembly at once and full independence at an early date, except Victorino Mapa, associate justice of the Supreme Court, who spoke in a different tone.

Mapa advised his people to have confidence in the people of the United States and to prepare for the time when their hopes would be fulfilled. Gov. Luke E. Wright made the principal speech at the banquet and as he finished he was warmly cheered. He gave the guests some important news bearing on the subject of independence. He spoke as follows:

Refers to South American Examples.

"Some seem to think that independence will work miracles and bring about the millennium. You make the claim and I believe your claim is just, that with opportunity and experience you are capable of better things. The aspirations of a people individual toward better things are laiseworthy if they are consistent and sensible and reasonable in character. The South American republics, where revolutions are rife and where each country is continually in factional strife, are fashioned after the United States model, but they have demonstrated that the people have made a failure in self-government.

"Now the American's arrival here was the result of an accident, the victory of Manila Bay. They found themselves charged with the responsibility of government and felt it their duty to take care of the country until its people would develop a capacity to take care of it themselves.

Lessons of Brief Rule.

"What the returning commissioners say about the kindly feeling throughout America and the purpose to assure to them the greatest degree of liberty is the truth today, and ever since we put our foot on these islands it has been the truth—the same old truth. I think it would not be out of place to say that the members of the commission, who arrived here in 1900, have proven that they did not come to destroy, but to benefit you.

"It is not true that you now elect your municipal and provincial officials and that a greater number of employes of the government are Filipinos? Have you not three representatives on the commission itself? How many more centuries would you have remained here under Spanish rule before you would have enjoyed what you have under six years of American occupation? How often do you think it would be possible for the Federal party to give a banquet where the guests could talk freely of independence?

"As much as we endeavor to do for these people you can readily understand how any distrust or hostility would interfere with the good work we have just started. It seems to me that not academic, but real practical questions confronted us. The wild man who goes naked is independent, but I do not believe that he is a model for us."

WOMAN WEATHER PROPHET

There Was Only One and Now She Is Dead at Hanover, in Pennsylvania.

HANOVER, Pa., Oct. 4.—Mrs. Annie E. Hall Grenewald, the only woman forecast official employed by the United States government, is dead at her home, near here, aged 57 years. She was regarded by the farmers of York County as an authority. Mrs. Grenewald was president of the National Science Club of Washington and editor of a scientific journal.

THOSE BRAINY JAPANESE

First Army Sanitarians to Act on a Discovery Made in the Dawn of History.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Among the passengers arriving on the liner Mongolia from the Orient was Maj. Louis L. Seaman, surgeon in the United States engineer branch of the army, who has been studying Japanese methods of surgery in the campaign of that army against the Russians. In his opinion, Japan is far ahead of all other nations of the world in the organization of her sanitary branch of the army and has been the first to anticipate and take measures against the fact that the greater number of deaths in war are caused, not by bullets, but by disease.

ROSWELL FLOOD RECEDES

New Mexican Town Suffers $100,000 Damage From the Pecos Overflow.

ROSWELL, N. M., Oct. 4.—Roswell is a scene of desolation. The flood that started Thursday night has receded. The damage will be over $100,000. For days it was impossible to get in telegraphic communication with outside points. The electric light plant was flooded and the city was in darkness. Water was three feet deep in the main part of the city and ran in streams through residences and business houses. The Roswell Opera House and about 15 business and residence houses collapsed. The dyke that was erected by the city was washed out.

There have been no trains either north or south since Thursday. The railroad bridges over the Pecos river have been washed away.

His Mystic Majesty, the Veiled Prophet, will pay his twenty-seventh annual visit to St. Louis Tuesday night, select and crown a queen to reign over the social life of his favorite city for a twelvemonth, make merry with parade and ball, and, before the dawn of another morning, retire to the seclusion of his hermit retreat for another year.

His ball this year will be on a greater plane than ever before. For twenty-six years he has come and ruled for half a day and received tribute from the people of St. Louis; this time he will have as his worshippers men of prominence and women of beauty from every nation. He will hold his first international court.

The Prophet will begin his parade soon after dark, the exact moment depending upon his caprice. When he decides to move from his den, on Walnut street, near Twenty-first, red fire will light the heavens and the cheers of his slaves will announce the fact. After the parade he will go to the Merchants' Exchange, where he will hold his social court, crown his queen and dance.

Art and Architecture is the theme of the 22 floats that will be in the parade. The floats will be gay with many-colored electric globes, lighted by power from Transit company trolley wires along the line of march. Street cars will stop while his majesty is passing.

There are some interesting points to be remembered in the rules of the ball. Most of them are old rules, but some are new. Men and women are expected to attend in full evening dress, leaving their wraps and hats in rooms named, and are expected to obey a rule not to tip the attendants.

Doors will be opened at 9 o'clock, and 40 minutes later the Veiled Prophet and his retinue will appear and begin the grand march. He will select and crown his queen as soon as the march is ended.

Those who come in carriages are expected to obey numerous rules as to arriving and departing, and they and their drivers are to be given duplicate slips showing what is expected of them. When they reach the ball room, the men are expected to stand until all the women have found seats. There are many other rules, but those who obey the ones here related will probably get through all right.

CARRIAGE FAMINE CAUSED BY THE TWO BIG BALLS

The carriage famine that for several years has threatened St. Louis in a mild way will become accentuated Tuesday night when society turns out to the Veiled Prophet's ball in the Merchants' Exchange and the New York ball in the New York state building at the World's Fair.

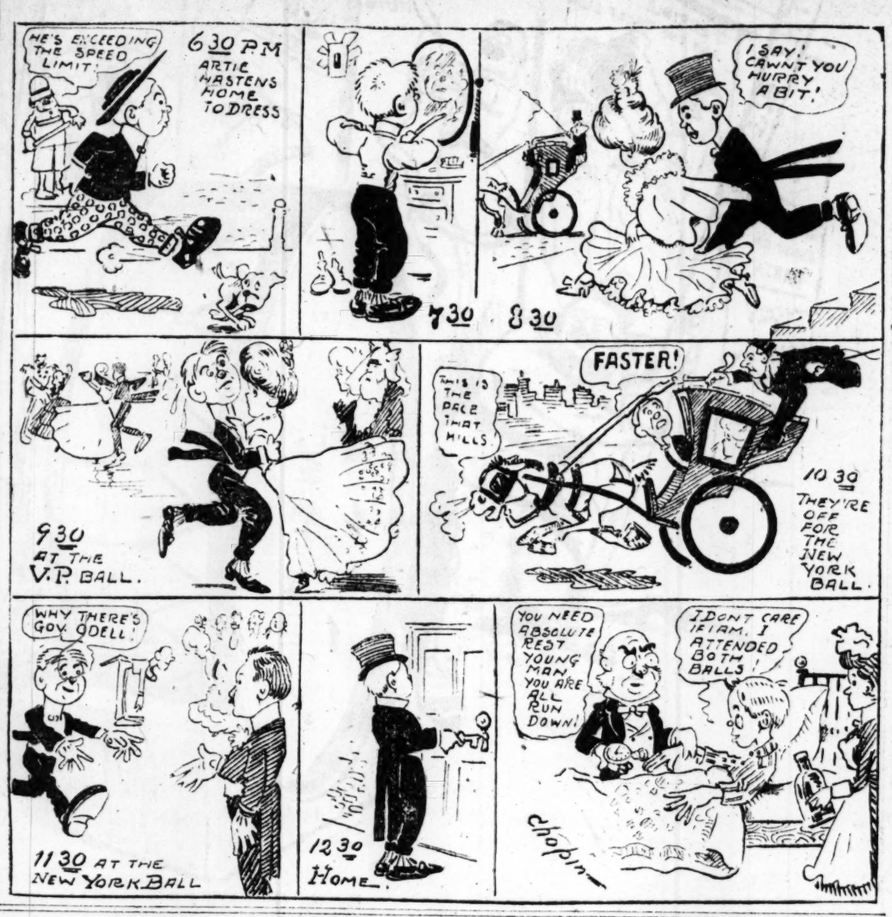
Liverymen are unable to supply the great demand for horses and vehicles and as a consequence many guests will take street cars, others will go in buggies and others will walk to the big balls.

Prices of individual cab owners have soared sky-high as a result of the scarcity of conveyances and the great demand. Liverymen will charge, it is said, $10 for a cab to one ball, $15 to both balls, and if the vehicle be kept for the night, $20.

Individual cab owners have set the price flat at $20, however, and an all-night engagement will mean no less than double this figure.

Even at this price, cabs are scarce. Liverymen say their entire quota was engaged for the balls a week ago, and those who have secured carriages since have found other sources.

This Will Be a Strenuous Day For Artie. With Both the V.-P. and New York Balls to Attend



BOTH SIDES TIRE IN JANZOW CASE

Agree to Postpone Hearing Until They Can Dispose of Their Neglected Business.

At the joint request of Attorneys William Wehrenbrecht and W. F. Smith, the Janzow deposition mill will be idle until Thursday morning, Oct. 6, at 9:30 o'clock.

When the plaintiff and defendants in the suit of Pastor Charles L. Janzow of Bethlehem Evangelical Lutheran Church against 15 members for $45,000 damage for alleged defamation of character met Tuesday morning in room 509 Railway Exchange building it was mutually agreed that a brief respite would be in order.

Pastor Janzow has a long list of sins to call upon and the business interests of the defendants, neglected for the past 10 days, demanded attention.

DOCTORS PLAN WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS

Delegates to Congress Now in Session at World's Fair Discuss Means of Checking Disease.

COLD BOTTLES ARE ADVOCATED

Use of Fat Meat and Out-of-Door Living Also Urged as Preventatives.

The second day's session of the Congress on Tuebrculosis, under the auspices of the American Congress of Tuberculosis, was begun Tuesday morning in Gymnasium Hall at the World's Fair. The discussions include subjects of the best means to prevent the spread of consumption.

Nearly a dozen South American countries are represented at the congress, delegates being present from Chili, Cuba, Argentine, Peru, San Salvador and other countries.

Only one of the papers at the opening session Monday took up a consideration of a means to prevent the contraction of tuberculosis. Dr. E. J. Barrick of Toronto, Canada, declared there were three pdecautions to be taken, which would assist greatly the fight of the system against the tuberculosis germ. The principal one of the three, he said, was the liberal use of cold water in the bath. His advice to those who fear consumption is to take frequent cold baths. Other means of prevention mentioned are the use of much fat meant and out-of-door life so far as is possible.

The address of welcome was delivered by Col. D. P. Dyer, United States district attorney, on account of the absence of President Francis, who was unable to be present.

Gov. L. F. C. Garvin of Rhode Island spoke of the work being done in his state to isolate consumptive persons in sanitariums. He said he believed the government should care for those afflicted with the disease.

Among other speakers were Dr. Charles E. Hughes of St. Louis, Dr. J. H. Kellogg of Battle Creek, Mich., who read the paper sent by Dr. A. N. Bell of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Dr. Anna C. Lyle of San Francisco, Cal.

"Over 460 people die daily in the United States from this dread disease," said Dr. Hughes in his address, "and one of the most dangerous means of the diffusion of tuberculosis is through the pawnshops and the second-hand clothing institutions of large cities. The poor who are necessarily driven to these stores for their clothing fall the unsuspecting victims to the disease."

DID HE SWEAR? NOT ON SUNDAY

Evidence of Sunday School Teacher Fails to Save Fruit Dealer From $5 Fine.

Testimony of his Sunday school teacher that she had never known him to swear did not save George Backers, proprietor of a fruit stand, from the force of the direct testimony of a customer that he did swear and, in addition, rapped the aforesaid customer across the ribs with a club. Judge Pollard, in the Dayton street police court, fined Backers Tuesday morning.

Backers' fruit stand is at Lucas and Compton avenues, where the Delmar and Page avenue cars turn going into Washington avenue on their downtown trips. A few doors away, at 3127 Lucas avenue, lives Samuel B. Rosenthal.

Last Thursday evening Rosenthal and his wife went to the fruit stand and began negotiations for the purchase of a quantity of grapes and pears. Backers declares Rosenthal said he wanted to buy about $4 worth of fruit. Rosenthal says he only got quotations on 10 cents' worth of pears and two pounds of grapes. An argument followed.

Rosenthal declared that Backers became angry, "tore off yards and yards of abusive language," demanded $1 each for three pears, and wound up by tickling the Rosenthal ribs with a piece of fence paling or some similar club.

Backers declared under oath that he was a good Sunday school scholar and never used bad words. He said a friend of his did the swearing and the clubbing.

Backers offered Dr. Mary Sargent, a practicing physician of 3132 Washington avenue, as his character witness. Dr. Sargent testified that she had known Backers for six or seven years, and that for a great part of that time she had him as her pupil in her class at the Evangelical Sunday school at Third and Elm streets. She testified that she had never known of Backers using profane or abusive language.

The testimony of Rosenthal and Mrs. Rosenthal as to what did happen overweighted, in the mind of the judge, the testimony of Dr. Sargent as to what she did not think could happen, and Backers was fined.

ROBBERS TIED WOMAN TO BED

Search Residence for Insurance Money, But Only Find Small Change Amounting to $5.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MASON CITY, Ill., Oct. 4.—Mrs. Larimore, a widow residing alone four miles from here, was brutally beaten by two robbers between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning. Both men wore red handkerchiefs over their faces. One was tall and the other was short and heavy set.

Mrs. Larimore received payment on her husband's insurance recently, and it is presumed the thieves expected to find the money in the house. Mrs. Larimore was aroused by knocking upon the door. When she opened it the robbers forced their way inside and seized her and tied her to a bedpost while they searched the premises. Only $5 in small change was found.

About 11 o'clock on Sunday night thieves effected an entrance to the home of C. E. Robbins in Mason City, but were frightened away by one of the members of the family who returned home late.

6000 CHICAGOANS ON THE WAY TO ST. LOUIS

Flood Tide Will Set in on Thursday When the Pit Men and Club Men Come and the Height of the Tide Will Be Reached Friday.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Six thousand Chicagoans left for St. Louis today to avoid the rush and to be present on Chicago day to help cheer the army that will then arrive from the windy city. Twenty thousand are expected to make the trip between Oct. 6 and 8.

Thursday the Standard Union League, Athletic, Illinois, Iroquois, Press and Germania clubs will move toward the Fair, while on the same day the Board of Trade will go over the Illinois Central in a special Pullman train, which will be used as a hotel for the bulls and bears during their stay in St. Louis.

The official parties will leave Thursday at 1 o'clock, the mayor and city officials on an Illinois Central special and the county and federal committees by the Alton. Accompanying the former will be two troops of the First cavalry, mounted, and the band, dismounted. Arriving at the Fair grounds the cavalry will escort the visitors, many of whom will be in carriages from the Administration to the Illinois building, where Mayor Rolla Wells will make the address of welcome and Mayor Carter H. Harrison will respond.

At a meeting of the executive committee held at the Palmer House today it was announced that $1200 had been subscribed toward defraying the expenses of the trip, but as solicitors are to be engaged tomorrow it is hoped to increase the fund to $5000, the amount required. The committee is anxious to have the Chicago day buttons properly distributed, and announced today that at all the railroad ticket offices the badges would be given out with every ticket purchased.

Gov. Odell Gives Dinner.

A dinner was given by Gov. Odell in the New York building at the World's Fair Monday night in honor of President and Mrs. Francis.

President Francis did not attend, owing to the death of his uncle, David P. Rowland. The New York building was decorated in lilies of the valley, fleur-de-lis and roses. Several hundred guests were present.

PRAYED FOR ERRING PASTOR

Rev. Nathan Wood, Charged With Stealing Chickens, Met in Cell by Fellow Ministers.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LACROSSE, Wis., Oct. 4.—A service of prayer by the Methodist clergymen of the city in a cell at a police station in an endeavor to recall to grace the Rev. Nathan Wood, charged with stealing chickens, was held last night.

Wood was a Methodist clergyman, but deviated from the straight and narrow path a short time ago and was let out of the ministry after investigation. After prayer, song and speeches, the accused expressed a desire to live a white life hereafter, and was released from custody. He may return to the ministry.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by JOSEPH PULITZER. Published by THE PULITZER PUBLISHING CO., 210-212 N. BROADWAY.

SCRATCH THESE CANDIDATES.

Protected by the Statute of Limitations.

CYRUS P. WALBRIDGE,
Republican Candidate for Governor.

SAM B. COOK,
Democratic Candidate for Secretary of State.

There are few weak cims among the spellbinders.

The deep distress of a moneyless British earl who has been rejected by a rich American woman is quite immeasurable.

Now that the police have demonstrated that they can maintain order at the polls there should be an end of all disorder and intimidation.

The nomination of an ambulance lawyer for Congress should mark the final cessation of the pernicious activity of the Butler gang in St. Louis politics.

"Mr. Roosevelt," says Carl Schurz, "would have found a most congenial and glorious field of action at the time of the crusades." But Theodore the Crusader, thirsting for combat and glory, is not the man for the presidency of a peaceful republic.

SMASH THE BOODLE COMBINE

If any lingering doubt remains in the mind of any St. Louisan of what Butlerism means to the city, it ought to be dissipated by the confession of Charles F. Kelly, ex-speaker of the House of Delegates, convicted boodler and state's witness.

In the story of his own experience as a boodler Kelly repeats the shameful history of the boodle combine of which he was a member, adding to it a chapter concerning the bribing of himself by Butler to run away and stay away until the statute of limitations had run. Kelly says he received $15,000 from Butler and $800 from a politician to take a trip to Europe.

Kelly exposes again the combination between the boodle boss and the powerful corporations to elect corrupt men to office and to corrupt elected officers for the purpose of plundering the city. He tells of the assurances that Butler gave the boodlers that one of his men would be elected to the office of circuit attorney to succeed Mr. Folk, so that they would be protected; or, failing in that, he would have them pardoned after election.

What could be more pertinent to the issue in today's city convention and in the approaching state and city elections? Kelly says he makes his confession public to warn other men to avoid his road to ruin and to "alarm the public."

Certainly the St. Louis public ought to be alarmed. The people of St. Louis should realize fully the danger that menaces the city. The Democrats of the city should realize what the perpetuation of Butler's power means to their party. Good work was done yesterday at the primaries, but it must be followed up with blow after blow, until the boodle gang is driven from all power.

There was no partisanship in boodle, so there should be no partisanship among honest men in fighting the boodle forces. The voters of all parties should combine against every man on any ticket who has the taint of Butlerism or boodleism.

The voters should support only the honest men of the local tickets, and preparations should be made to meet a combination of tainted candidates with clean, independent candidates.

If, after the full exposure of the work of the political boodle combine the people of St. Louis do not smash it at the polls they will deserve to be plundered and will do much to prove their incapacity for self-government.

Though the postoffice department is more in need of a thorough investigation than it ever was, there will be no investigation before the election; possibly none after that.

THE APPEARANCE OF EVIL.

The gross impropriety of levying campaign contributions upon corporations or accepting contributions from them is obvious, in the light of Ogden Armour's announcement that "we"—that is, he and his colleagues in the Beef Trust—"are going to support Roosevelt most emphatically. We have been satisfied with his administration and will be well satisfied to have him continue in office."

Coming on the heels of an investigation into the Beef Trust instituted by Mr. Cortelyou, when secretary of the department of commerce, this is highly interesting.

Why are Mr. Armour and his colleagues of the Beef Trust so well satisfied with the Roosevelt administration? The investigation was undertaken to bring out the facts of the beef monopoly and give them publicity. Mr. Roosevelt was a sturdy advocate of publicity as a cure-all. What has become of the investigation?

In view of Mr. Cortelyou's activity in the business of collecting big campaign contributions from monopoly trusts, have we not a right to infer a connection between Mr. Armour's satisfaction with the administration and the smothering of the investigation? Is the Beef Trust campaign contribution the link which connects these two facts?

However that may be, a keen sense of propriety would avoid even the appearance of evil. When Mr. Cortelyou expects contributions from corporations which he has been investigating which have received and hope to receive favors from the government, the appearance is so rank that it must be accepted as the key to the facts.

Tobacco consumers are turning a deaf ear to the assertion that its use affects the hearing.

MR. KELLY, HUMORIST.

The written confession of Boodler Charles F. Kelly, former member of the House of Delegates, is replete with rare humor. In explaining the workings of the boodle combine he says:

> We went about it in a business-like way and had combine meetings at stated times and fixed the bribe prices which we were to receive for our votes, by a majority vote of the combine. Then we would select one of the combine, in whose honesty we had confidence, to go out and get the money. These agents rarely betrayed us. In one or two instances they confiscated part of the money, but as a general rule they were honest with us.

Kindly observe the clause, "in whose honesty we had confidence." Could anything be more delightful than this bit of analysis? These political highwaymen were not always honest, forsooth, but nearly always. What more?

Again, observe Mr. Kelly's ideas on the subject of morality as applied to boodle. He says:

> Among ourselves, understand, we had a high code of morals, and it was considered extremely dishonest for a member of the combine to accept bribe money without dividing it amongst his fellows.

"A high code of morals" is good. This is the same code of morals, no doubt, that is followed by the Horsethieves' Protective and Benevolent Association. As for "extremely dishonest," this is entirely too rich to be handled outside the Comic Supplement of the Post-Dispatch.

Mr. Kelly explains that the combine rarely received less than $1000 for its vote on any question, but that sometimes members accepted as little as $50 for their votes. On some minor matters, he says, "some of the boys took $5 each, but they were so ashamed of it that they would never speak of it afterwards"—"ashamed of it," he naively explains, "because the price was so small."

Rare Mr. Kelly! He should write a book.

Though the labor troubles in Colorado have caused a decline of $6,400,000 in the output of United States gold in the year past, we yet produced 54,300,000 fine ounces.

PROMISE VS. PERFORMANCE.

"The appointment of officers for hospitals and police boards and soldiers' homes and eleemosynary institutions should not be made for political service, but for honesty and competency," declared Col. Walbridge, Republican candidate for governor, in a speech at Bolivar, Mo., Saturday.

Right. But when Col. Walbridge was mayor of St. Louis did he practice what he now preaches? Did he appoint honest and capable men to positions of trust and responsibility under his administration?

For superintendent of the House of Refuge—where 1500 boys and girls are under corrective discipline—Mayor Walbridge appointed Isaac H. Bristol, a notorious political wirepuller, whose former occupation made him unfit for the place. Bristol established a record of incompetency and after a service of 14 months was removed at the instigation of the board of charity commissioners.

For city jailer Mayor Walbridge sent to the City Council for confirmation the name of Ernest Knickmeier, a saloonkeeper, so utterly unfit for official duty the mayor's own supporters in the assembly voted to reject him.

As a substitute the mayor selected Louis Wagner, better known as "Butch" Wagner, a South St. Louis ward worker, whose single qualification for the responsible position of jailer was his record of "political service." Wagner's reign was characterized by a series of disgraceful episodes which demoralized the discipline of the jail and terminated in the escape of Noble Shepard, a double murderer, who has never been apprehended.

To preside over the Central District Police Court—the most important tribunal in the city for the trial of peace offenders—Mayor Walbridge chose Thomas H. Peabody, whose demonstrated partiality to wrongdoers was a source of constant embarrassment to the law enforcing authorities.

As temporary city register, following the death of the regular incumbent of that office, Mayor Walbridge appointed Henry Besch, a South St. Louis saloonkeeper. Subsequently Besch was indicted for bribery in connection with his official conduct as superintendent of street sprinkling.

A Democratic holdover official who refused to yield the patronage of his office to the Republican machine was summarily ousted by Mayor Walbridge.

Every department of the municipal service was honeycombed with self-seeking politicians.

In the light of these facts of his own record, as mayor, Col. Walbridge's words have a hollow sound. They offer no assurance that, if elected, he would appoint "honest and capable men" to office.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

CRIME IN ST. LOUIS COUNTY.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I would like to ask the people of St. Louis a few questions through the columns of your valuable paper in connetion with the troublous times so prevalent in the county of St. Louis, in the vicinity of Delmar garden. For some time past the papers have almost daily recorded new cases of men being robbed of all their savings by gamblers in that vicinity. It is a safe estimate to say that only about 10 per cent of the robberies are reported to the police. Personally I know of at least ten cases today and I am safe in saying that not more than two or three will be reported. I want to know whether the citizens of this city and this county are going to stand by and see the name of this city dragged to the bottommost depths without making an effort to suppress or rather to preserve it? An organized effort on the part of a few fair-minded citizens would stamp out this curse to the community, if the county officials will not. JUSTITIA.

DISCONNECTED SUBURBS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Since the new suburb, Greenwood, has been built up many children from there are obliged to attend the Longfellow school, to do which they must cross the Des Peres and pass through the adjoining suburb of Lindenwood. The problem of getting from one of these places to the other has been a troublesome one for years, because the roads were not opened. But now that the city has built a bridge across the river at Fyler avenue, there would be an improvement had not the Frisco railway regraded its track there, making an embankment at Fyler avenue which the children cannot climb. They have to go around by Lindenwood station, and are usually confronted there with a long line of freight cars, extending several blocks. They are getting into the habit of climbing under or over these to save going around, and it is only a question of time when some of them will be killed. A bridge should be built across the tracks at Fyler avenue, and the sooner the better. The school authorities should bring influence to bear on this subject, as it will be impossible for the children to attend school if matters get much worse. The Frisco is all the time adding to its stock of cars at that point. The long line of "empties" now stands like a wall between the two suburbs, and something must be done speedily. CITIZEN.

PAY YOUR CARFARE.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Here is an answer for the writer who signed "Turnstiles and Nickels:" The Transit company is right in not accepting car tickets after date. The writer has possibly been missed by the conductor and he or she wants two rides for five cents. If they are so small as that they ought to go to the office and get child's tickets.

Now let the writer "get busy" and pay the conductor when he comes through the car asking for fares. Do not look out the window or look wise in the conductor's face and try to bluff him out of the fare and you will not have those tickets left. Pay your fare as you would any other honest debt and you will not cause the conductor to lose his position when he is trying to make a living for his family. A CONDUCTOR.

A RECKLESS CONDUCTOR.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Will the Post-Dispatch give publicity to the following disregard of rules for the safety of the public? Thursday, at 10:40 p. m., at the grade crossing of the Missouri Pacific, Manchester and Tower Grove avenues, car 1165, on the Vandeventer line, in charge of conductor 5833, narrowly escaped the fate of the Sarah street wreck. The conductor did not leave the car, but stood on the steps in the front part of the car. Gates were not down. The engine, drawing freight, at great speed, was without headlight. No bell was ringing. If the motorman had not put all power on, nothing could have saved the car and passengers from utter demolishment. A RESIDENT.

NAME FOR ESKIMO BABY.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

How would the name Icyanga suit the little Eskimo baby? TENNESSEE.

SINCERE AND FEARLESS.

From the Nevada (Mo.) Evening Post.

To read the editorials of the Post-Dispatch is to admire them. Even when the reader and the writer disagree, the sincerity and fearlessness of expression command respect. If a renaissance of patriotism is possible in St. Louis, the Post-Dispatch will accomplish it.

THE REPUBLICAN SIDE SHOW

By C. G. BUSH
WORLD AND POST-DISPATCH CARTOONIST.

NEW YORK WORLD EDITORIALS TODAY

SPEAKER CANNON AS A DANGER.

Here and there a Republican organ or orator insists that the gold standard is not, as Judge Parker says, "firmly and irrevocably fixed." If they really believe this, they should make every effort to defeat the re-election to Congress of Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the House. Mr. Cannon is now a supporter of the gold standard, but in the past and for many years he was one of the most extreme of the free silver men in Congress. He voted for the Bland-Allison free coinage bill in 1877, and boasted of it in a speech in the House the next year, saying:

"I am satisfied it would be wise legislation not only to allow free coinage, but also to allow the holders of silver bullion to deposit the same in the treasury and receive from the government of the United States coin notes, dollar for dollar, upon the basis of the weight and fineness of the dollar of 412½ grains of silver, and make such notes receivable for all government dues."

Mr. Bryan never went further than this. A year later, in 1879, when many silver Republicans had begun to learn wisdom, Mr. Cannon said in the House: "Silver is just as much the money of the Constitution as gold, and should have just the same treatment in every respect as gold."

Mr. Cannon voted to pass over the veto of a Republican president a bill providing for the free coinage of silver, making the cheap dollar a full legal tender and giving to the owners of the bullion all the profits of coinage. He voted for the Sherman compulsory silver purchase act, which brought the country to the very edge of a silver basis and was the most active cause of the panic of 1893.

Is this a fit man to send back to Congress to safeguard the gold standard? Suppose there should come a recurrence of hard times and with them a renewal of the popular clamor for "more money" and "cheaper money." Is there anything in "Joe" Cannon's character or career to indicate that he would not yield to it, as he did before?

The speaker of the House holds an office second only to that of the president in power. He appoints the committees. He holds the tiller for the "steering committee." He can even shape the course of debate. The gold standard Republicans owe it to their party and to the country to defeat Mr. Cannon.

ELOQUENT SILENCE.

On Saturday the World printed an open letter calling attention to certain peculiar features of the Roosevelt campaign. It exhibited the various stages of the President's relations with the trusts, beginning with stern hostility, proceeding through armed truces and ending in surrender.

It showed how Mr. Roosevelt had first demanded the most ample powers for dealing with trusts, including "publicity in the interest of the public"; how he had tested these powers and found them effective, and then how he had allowed the sword to rest in idleness. It told how Mr. Cortelyou, the President's private secretary, had been made grand inquisitor of trust secrets, and next how he had been transferred to the work of extracting money from the very corporations he had been investigating. And then, not in idle curiosity, but as a matter of legitimate "publicity in the interest of the public," it asked:

1. How much has the Beef Trust contributed to Mr. Cortelyou?
2. How much has the Paper Trust contributed to Mr. Cortelyou?
3. How much has the Coal Trust contributed to Mr. Cortelyou?
4. How much has the Sugar Trust contributed to Mr. Cortelyou?
5. How much has the Oil Trust contributed to Mr. Cortelyou?
6. How much has the Tobacco Trust contributed to Mr. Cortelyou?
7. How much has the Steel Trust contributed to Mr. Cortelyou?
8. How much has the Insurance Trust contributed to Mr. Cortelyou?
9. How much have the national banks contributed to Mr. Cortelyou?
10. How much have the six great Railroad Trusts contributed to Mr. Cortelyou?

Is it credible that there would have been a single day's delay in answering these questions if a satisfactory answer had been possible?

Three days have gone by—not as long a time, to be sure, as the 586 days that have passed without a report from Mr. Roosevelt's bureau of corporations, but still a long stretch for the last month of a campaign—yet the President's defenders are dumb.

In the absence of authoritative statement voters are reduced to noting facts and drawing their own inferences. The Beef Trust, the first on the World's list, is "emphatically for Roosevelt."

Mr. J. Ogden Armour declares that he and his associates like Mr. Roosevelt's administration and "will be well satisfied to have him continue in office."

"We can be pretty certain what he is going to do," adds Mr. Armour, "and that means everything to a business man."

The Beef Trust, after winning its strike, has just raised the price of meat while reducing the price of cattle. Perhaps Mr. Cortelyou can tell where some of the additional profit has gone.

DO WIVES OBEY THEIR HUSBANDS?

By Nixola Greeley-Smith, Granddaughter of Horace Greeley.

Written for the Post-Dispatch.

NIXOLA G. SMITH.

A colored man, accompanied by his buxom spouse, walked into the New York City Hall yesterday and asked to see the mayor, saying that he wanted to procure a divorce from his wife because she wouldn't obey him.

The incident was interesting because it suggested the speculation as to just what number of men in New York or St. Louis would be entitled to a decree if disobedience were indeed a cause of action. Probably there is not one who would not be given grounds for severance of the tie almost daily. Whether or not wives should obey their husbands is an old problem better left to be threshed out between the old-fashioned divine and the new woman. But whether or not wives do obey is another matter. I never knew but one who did. And she was terrorized by a middle-aged husband who in turn was absolutely overridden by his one daughter—the only creature on earth for whom he had ever evinced the slightest fondness.

When we think of the number of husbands who perhaps unconsciously obey their wives, on the contrary, we are forced to admit that they are multiple as the sea sand.

The average man's idea of a domestic victory is to fling out of the house the moment trouble begins to brew. But what is such a proceeding, after all, but base, ignominious flight? His idea of quarreling, indeed, seems to be based on the old couplet:

> He who fights and runs away
> May live to fight another day.

But in the meantime the enemy remains in possession of the field and can scarcely be said to be vanquished. Husbands are ruled by their hatred of "scenes." Now, the average woman loves a "scene." There are some women, indeed, who are never completely happy except in the midst of a storm. And so long as the sex possesses this quality it will continue to have the upper hand in domestic wrangles.

Generally speaking, in a quarrel between two people the victory belongs to the less intelligent. For if one is gifted with a surplus of brains or humor, one is apt to be overcome in the very thick of the fray by a sense of the futility or the ridiculousness of it all, and to welcome peace at any price.

Few women take the vow to obey in any save the most perfunctory spirit nowadays, but the number of bridegrooms who make the masculine pledge without some mental reservation is scarcely larger.

A great many men think their wives obey them when they are actually the hardest task mistresses that ever poor mortal served. I remember in talking to a husband of this description I once used the phrase in speaking of another man, "He is one of those very young husbands who believes his wife should obey him"—to be met with the serious reply: "Why, I believe that, too. Mine does."

It was notorious among his friends that he had not only been fairly sandbagged into matrimony by a lady of very determined character, but that she still kept him beautifully in leash by force of a high temperament not unlike that of the great Mrs. Siddons, of whom it was said that "she even stabbed her potatoes."

I also knew a young fellow, married to a woman nearly twice his age, who attempted to enforce very youthful ideas of domestic discipline, the more ridiculous because most people who didn't know took her for his mother. Whenever any difference of opinion arose in the household the young husband would explode into fiery assertions of his determination to be obeyed, and the mature wife would meekly hang her head and say, "Yes, dear. Certainly, dear. There, there; don't fuss any more." Just as if she had been soothing a naughty child.

But the soothing process over, she would pursue her own way undisturbed, and, if disobedience were indeed ground for divorce, gave him quite as much cause as the most refractory of young wives.

THE PRIMATE AND HIS BISHOPS.

From the New York Times.

The dried-up little old gentleman whom J. Pierpont Morgan is toting about the country, the Most Rev. Archbishop of Canterbury, is one of the most consequential individuals on earth, if you do but know it. Morgan has nought to do with small fry. In the peerage of England the Archbishop takes precedence over all dukes of the realm, except those who are immediate relatives of the sovereign. He has 2 bishoprics in his province (including his own see), against 19 in that of York. He thus takes a position of decided superiority, being placed above the lord chancellor, while his colleague follows after that official; their respective appellations being also distinguished as "primate of all England" and "primate of England." Canterbury styles himself "by divine providence," and York "by divine permission," as do the bishops. The visitor, therefore, who is now enjoying himself in collisions, state dinners, church meetings, etc., is the highest personage in England after the royal family.

It is a period of depression in England, and our lively little Archbishop of Canterbury, in his leggings, is suffering along with many of his bishops. Here are some salaries: Canterbury, $75,000; York, $50,000; and these bishops: London, $50,000; Durham, $35,000; Winchester, $32,500; Bath and Wells, $25,000; Carlisle, $22,500; Chester, $21,000; Ely, $27,500; Liverpool, $21,000; Norwich, $22,500; Worcester, $25,000; Salisbury, $23,000; Oxford, $25,000. Oh, religion comes high in the High Church of old England! Well: Several years ago some of the cleverest of the spiritual peers, including the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, and the Bishops of Winchester, Carlisle, Chester, Norwich and Salisbury, persuaded their deans and chapters to take in lieu of fixed annual money salaries estates estimated at that time to produce the same income. They are consequently now suffering from the agricultural depression. Morgan will help them out.

In all his official correspondence the Archbishop of Canterbury signs himself "Randall Cantaur," the latter word being an abbreviation of "Cantuaria," the ancient name of Canterbury. The Archbishop of York's signature is "Willelm: Ebor." Ebor (Eboracum) is the ancient name of York. When Bishop of Winchester, Dr. Davidson signed himself "Randall Winton." Winton being the old name of Winchester.

Drowned Out.

"I'm sure my husband doesn't care for me any more."

"What makes you think so?"

"Every time I start to scold him he commences to whistle—and he's got the shrillest whistle you ever heard." Cleveland Plain Dealer.

In the Fall.

From the Houston (Tex.) Chronicle.

Oh, the golden rod is blowing
In the fall;
And the cider press is going
In the fall.
Altho' days be short, they're sunny—
Still the bees are making honey—
And your tailor wants his money,
In the fall.

Oh, the candidate is working
In the fall;
Everywhere you find him lurking
In the fall.
He ne'er looks in your direction
'Till 'most time for the election,
But he's bubbling with affection
In the fall.

Oh, the pumpkin is a-gleaming
In the fall;
And the callow clerk is dreaming
In the fall,
Of those days on sand dunes yellow
And the girl who waxed so mellow,
But she seldom knows a fellow
In the fall.

This Vexes.

Whose forte was the jab solar plex.
He landed stiff blows
On eyes and on nows
And thereby won V's and some ex.

When the hair is dry wash it again in good, strong vinegar, drying it without using a towel. Next day wash again with soap and water. One application of the coal oil and the vinegar is likely to be sufficient.

F. R. K. J.—It is impossible to say how much money a man needs to be earning before he asks a girl to become his wife. Some accomplish much with little, others accomplish nothing and are always in debt. All depend upon the kind of man and woman who marry. What to one is "living decently" is intolerable to another. Both sexes "cause" flirting. It is extremely silly in either.

WORKING GIRL.—For cold in the head: In the morning, after rising, and at night before retiring, wash the feet and legs as high up as the knees in cold water, then rub them with a rough towel and massage them till the skin is red and glowing. In addition to this, cautiously snuff tepid water up the nose frequently during the day and sip with a teaspoon a glassful as hot as can be borne an hour before each meal, and at bedtime. Tea of white oak bark applied freely to parts which perspire excessively is often helpful. So is a wash of an ounce of hydrate of chloral to a pint of water.

L. R. R.—Under the election laws of Missouri, a foreigner having declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, or taken out his first papers, can vote after those papers are one year old and he can vote on his first papers for four years, or until his papers are five years old, and no longer. He cannot vote on his first papers until they are one year old, nor can he vote thereon after the paper is five years old. He must then go to a court of competent jurisdiction, having common law jurisdiction and a seal and clerk, and take out his final papers.

S. K.—Hot Tamales: Boil two pounds of lean beef until perfectly tender and when cool grind very fine. Remove the seeds from a pint of chile peppers; put them on in cold water to cover and bring slowly to the boil; but do not boil. Skim out the peppers, cool and chop fine; mix the meat, peppers, a teaspoonful of camino seed well mashed, a teaspoonful of minced garlic and salt to taste. Scald a pint of corn meal with the water in which the peppers were cooked. Cut corn shucks into pieces about two inches wide and four long; spread a little meal on one, lay a spoonful of the prepared mixture on this and roll up, folding the ends securely. Steam two hours, keeping the water boiling.

Don't Get Too Gay.

There is no reason why a man should not live as long as an elephant, say 200 years, if he don't get too gay.—From the Life and Works of John L. Sullivan.

If you would live two hundred years,
Don't get too gay;
And don't take Folly by the ears;
Don't get too gay.
Just jog along and take it slow,
And yet keep up to date, you know,
But don't slop over; don't o'erflow;
Don't get too gay.

If you must have a drink or two,
Don't get too gay;
You'll sure regret it if you do;
Don't get too gay.
Of course you understand your biz,
But, then, this thing of drinking "fizz"
Is just about the worst that is.
Don't get too gay.

If you on making love are bent,
Don't get too gay;
Courageous be, and confident,
But not too gay;
Don't tell the old, old story to
More than one charmer. If you do,
Why, they will make it hot for you.
Don't get too gay.

Having Fun With One's Self.

Another woman has been taking poison "for fun." So great was the jest and so far did she carry the joke that her finish came near furnishing a smile for the undertaker.

Just why it is that people resort to poison when they want to have fun with themselves is a matter yet unexplained by psychologists. Why they don't stick pins and needles into themselves, swallow tacks, fight an automobile or draw a red-hot poker across the back of their necks is a question to which the savants have yet found no answer. Either method, it seems, would be safer than to invest one's system with a deadly drug, and certainly far more exhilarating.

Any thinking person, we believe, will agree with us that the swallowing of tacks, and the regurgitation of them, if desirable, in order that the sensation of having them tickle the thorax may be enjoyed repeatedly, would be a lot funnier than burning out one's alimentary canal with some drastic poison, and that a red-hot poker, deftly and frequently applied to the body, would produce a greater variety sensations than any drug that was ever compounded.

If people are determined to have fun with themselves, why don't thy have the most fun possible? The ways suggested are not only more ingenious and legitimate than the old one of taking poison, but they cost less.

As long as fun can be had in a "sane and safe" manner, why expose one's self to danger unnecessarily?

"Just a Minute" favors a society for the suppression of persons who can see no sport except in a drug store, and who have fun with themselves at the expense of physicians, neighbors, friends and others, who are put to the trouble of rescuing them from the effects of their unseemly hilarity.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

FORTY STRIKE FOR ONE AND HE WORKS

Union Telephone Men Quit Because Workman's Pay Is Below the Standard Scale.

Failure of one man to get full union wages as a second-class workman led to a strike of more than forty cable splicers employed by two telephone companies in St. Louis Monday afternoon.

The man over whom the strike occurred remained at work, however, and twenty other cable splicers employed with him by the Bell Telephone Co. were called out.

The union men refuse to give the name of the man who caused the strike, and the manager of the Bell company refuses to admit that there is a strike.

According to the story told by officials of the Cable Splicers' Union, at a meeting held in the Electrical Workers' headquarters at Eleventh and Chestnut streets, Tuesday, the two companies had in their employ about forty men who were receiving less than the union scale of $3.75 a day as cable splicers.

One of these men, a member of the union, was not a first-class workman, according to the union rules, but was entitled to $3.50 a day as a second-class man. He got $3 with the Bell company. He took the matter up with his union, and the companies were notified that they must pay all cable splicers according to the union scale. The companies failed to obey the order and a strike of all men receiving less than the scale was ordered.

The second-class man, however, refused to strike; he stuck to his work at $3 a day. The union thereupon ordered all its members working for the Bell company to go out, regardless of the union scale.

DEATH PREFERRED TO WORLD'S FAIR GUEST

Rather Than Entertain Unwelcome Visitor Woman Inhales Chloroform—Will Probably Recover.

For the sake of her little boy, Mrs. Jennie Teman is willing to live, even though she must entertain a World's Fair visitor.

Monday evening it seemed to Mrs. Teman that there was nothing sweet enough in life to compensate her for the bitterness of having as a World's Fair guest a woman that she disliked, and she tried to end it all with chloroform.

She did not succeed, and now she is glad that she did not. For her boy's sake she will try to bear the burden of being the hostess to an unwelcome guest.

Mrs. Teman, who is 23 years old, lives with her husband, Knute, and their 4-year-old boy, Lerow, at 1123 Clark avenue.

They formerly lived at Madison, Wis. Monday she received a letter from the sister of her husband, who lives at Madison, which announced that she was coming on a visit, to see the World's Fair, and she was going to bring a woman friend along.

Mrs. Teman was glad that her husband's sister was coming, but she was not glad that the latter's friend was coming also. She dislikes the friend very much. The prospect of having to be a hostess to her was unbearable. She determined to die.

She went to call on Mrs. Platt at 204 South Fourteenth street, taking a small bottle of chloroform with her. She cried as she told Mrs. Platt about the coming of the woman she did not like. Then she went into a room, locked the door, saturated her handkerchief with the chloroform and inhaled the vapor.

She heard Mrs. Platt beating upon the door and calling upon her to open it, and then she lost consciousness.

She was at the City Hospital when she regained consciousness Tuesday morning. Mrs. Platt had broken the door open, called an ambulance, and her life had been saved.

Her first thought, with returning sensibility, was not of the woman she did not like, but of her boy. She cried bitterly at the thought of the distress which she supposed her action had brought to the boy. "I didn't think how bad it would make him feel," she said. "I want to go home to him. I will not try to do anything like this again, no matter how many women I do not like come to see me."

GOOD WISHES FOR PORTLAND

President and Judge Parker Express Kind Feeling Toward Exposition.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 4.—Letters expressing wishes of success to the Lewis and Clark Exposition have been received by President Jefferson Myers of the state commission from President Roosevelt, Alton B. Parker, the Democratic presidential nominee, and A. J. Montague, governor of Virginia.

The letters were written in acknowledgment of Lewis and Clark souvenir dollars, which were recently forwarded to them from President Myers. Gov. Montague adds to his letter that he expects to attend the big Fair next year.

Cngressman Bartholdt Ill.

Congressman Richard Bartholdt is ill at his home at 3319 South Ninth street as a result of the exposure and overwork incident to his journey with the interparliamentary peace party during its recent visit to the United States. Dr. F. W. Abeken, who is attending Mr. Bartholdt, says his condition is not serious.

IN SOCIETY

Society will have a busy evening Tuesday attending the Vieled Prophet ball at the Merchants' Exchange and the ball at the New York state building given by the New York commission for Gov. and Mrs. Odell. There have been 11,000 invitations issued for the Prophet's ball and 1500 for the New York function. All the prominent World's Fair officials and notable foreigners have signified their intention of attending both balls and as the ladies have had magnificent gowns made for the functions both give promise of being brilliant affairs.

The marriage of Miss Ethel Gibbs of West Roxbury, Mass., and Mr. Henry Sprague, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sprague of 3956 Delmar boulevard, was celebrated at high noon on Monday at the New England Church in Roxbury, Mass. Miss Ethel Norcross was Miss Gibbs' matron of honor. Miss Gibbs is a Wellesley girl and her particular circle of college friends, of which Miss Helena Meisenback of St. Louis was one, presented the bride with a magnificent solid silver tea service. Several of Mr. Sprague's St. Louis business friends presented the bride and bridegroom with a handsome cut glass punch bowl. Mr. Sprague and his bride will come to St. Louis to reside after a honeymoon journey.

Miss Anna Force entertained the Rand-Hale wedding party at her home on Monday evening with a heart party. The wedding party that will serve Miss Nettie Lumpkin Hale and Mr. Frank Rand on Wednesday evening will include Miss Marjory Sampson, maid of honor; Miss Anna Force, Miss Ethel Bronson of Chicago, Miss May Atkinson, Miss Sarah Bailey and Miss Helen Rand, the bridegroom's sister.

Mr. Edgar T. Rand is to be best man for his brother, and Messrs. John Slayton of Arkansas, J. P. Norfleet of Memphis, Tenn., Chilton Atkinson and Phillip Hale, the bride's brother, are the bridegroom's other attendants. The ceremony is to be performed at 8 o'clock at St. Mark's Episcopal Church by the Rev. Dr. J. K. Brennen.

Miss Grace Jenkins of New York, formerly of West Virginia, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. W. Briscoe Kinealy. Many affairs are being given in her honor. Miss Jenkins is the niece of Gen. Albert Gallatin Jenkins, the celebrated Confederate general.

Mrs. Huron L. Davis of Germantown, Pa., is the guest of Mrs. William Webb of 3523 Olive street.

Miss Adele Wait of Greenville, Ill., is spending Veiled Prophet week at Hotel Beers.

Mrs. F. H. Ingalls of Westminster place is entertaining Mrs. M. E. Burbank of Maine.

Mrs. William Bagnall of Portland place and her children and her niece, Mrs. Byron Babbitt, have returned home from Glenwood Springs, Colo.

Miss Anna Lee is being entertained by Miss Helen Johnson of Washington boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Lawery have as their guest Mrs. L. E. Donaldson of Columbus, who has recently returned from Springfield, Mo., where she was the guest of her brother, Mr. Samuel Lowery.

Mrs. Houston Whiteside, who has been visiting Gov. Stanley of Kansas, has returned to her home.

Mrs. Rufus J. Lathrop of Detroit, Mich., arrived the latter part of last week and is the guest of her father and sister, Col. Harry C. Townsend and Miss Townsend of the Buckingham club.

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF DOINGS IN THE MARKET AND FINANCIAL WORLD

ST. PAUL THE FEATURE IN AN ACTIVE MARKET

Enormous Buying in this Stock on Rumors of Favorable Developments Cause a Gain of Over Seven Points and This Helps the General List.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Prices were still on the upturn at the commencement of business on Wall street this morning and, although the gains in general were small, trading was active on the buying side.

London contributed its share to the improvement noted with a higher range of values before our opening, and consols advanced 1-16 on both money and account.

Sentiment over night remains cheerful and no adverse feature regarding the securities market is apparent in the general situation. The weather in the grain and cotton sections is favorable in the extreme and the possibilities of frost damage to come is practically past. The government report on cotton was on the whole a satisfactory showing and the danger of loss from the present indicated yield is daily lessening. Money conditions remain unchanged. The heavy withdrawals from the local banks continue, but interest rates remain unchanged in the neighborhood of 2 per cent. Foreign lending in this market has been heavy and this accounts for the ease in money rates in the face of the large interior demand noted.

Realizing sales on an enormous scale were the feature of the market during the second hour of trading, but all stock pressing for sale was readily absorbed at a slightly higher level of prices than those prevailing at the close of the market yesterday. The early market in the United State Steel issues was reactionary, and the preferred stock declined to 75⅝, a point under last night's closing, before the decline was checked. Conditions in the steel trade are still reported as favorable and indications point strongly to a general improvement in this line in the near future. It is stated that the reduction in the price of tinplate is bringing into the market large orders for this product, and the recent reductions in other steel products is also stimulating a more active demand in this line. It is reported thaat the Crucible Steel Co. will authorize the issue of not less than $6,000,000 in bonds to finance the floating debt of the company and for other corporate needs.

Eastern railway officials report traffic in that section showing general improvement. And the Baltimore & Ohio reports an increase in coal traffic and especially in the lake region. The line also reports an improvement in this line of traffic and this company's earnings at the present time show a tendency to increase.

Enormous buying in Union Pacific and St. Paul at the noon hour carried these issues to a new high level, Union Pacific touching 104 and St. Paul 162 before a reaction set in. No news of importance to account for the strength displayed is forthcoming, but the rumor is prevalent that in the rearrangement of the plans of the Northern Securities tangle that the St. Paul Railroad will figure prominently.

Money remains easy at 2 per cent. Sales to noon, 692,300.

It is reported that the Pennsylvania railroad has rewarded a contract for 600 steel coal cars to the Pressed Steel Car Co. and the Cambria Steel Co. In addition to these the company has ordered built at once 85 passenger coaches, 25 powerful freight engines and is considering a bid for 200 coke cars. It is said the company is in urgent need of additional equipment on account of the increased tonnage noted at present.

Railroad earning coming to hand show liberal increases in both gross and net returns. Forty-three roads for the third week of September report an average gross increase of 8.06 per cent, while 52 roads for the full month of August show an average net gain of 2.25 per cent.

The enormous absorption of St. Paul and the strong advance noted in this issue was the feature of the later trading. The stock shortly after 1 o'clock touched 167, showing a gain from yesterday of 7⅛ points. And this carried up the general list all along the line. No news other than that stated above is forthcoming on this issue, but the general opinion is that the rumor in circulation will prove the correct solution of the advance.

Commission houses report a sharp increase in public buying in the past two days and the sals to noon would indicate that some inquiry from the public is in the market for the first time in many months.

In the last hour of trading the market turned abruptly downward. The weight of profit sales was enormous and in most instances the gains of the earlier trading were overcome. St. Paul touched 165 and United States Steel preferred 75 before the reaction was checked and a rally started that carried prices upward again. On the rebound prices failed to make a full recovery and the close came with prices acitve and steady and in most case at a higher level.

Opening prices and changes were as follows: Copper, 59⅝, advance ¼; Atchison, 83⅝, advance ⅛; Brooklyn, 58⅝, advance ⅜; Baltimore & Ohio, 90⅜, advance ⅛; Erie, 33⅞, advance ⅛; Missouri Pacific, 99⅜, advance ¼; Reading, 69¼, advance ⅛; Pennsylvania, 132⅜, advance ¼; St. Paul, 159⅞, advance ⅛; Southern Pacific, 57⅝, advance ¼; Union Pacific, 102⅜, advance ⅛; United States Steel common, 19¼, unchanged; United States Steel preferred, 76⅜, unchanged.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The stock market today opened active and a small fraction higher. There were very large dealings in Erie and the United States Steel stocks, first transactions in them ranging from 3000 to 6000 shares. The Metropolitan stocks, New York Central and Tennessee Coal made small declines.

Rallies and reactions alternated frequently in the first hour's business, which was very large. The general tone was good. A break in United States Steel preferred from 76⅞ to 76 disturbed the market. With a recovery to the top again and confident buying of St. Paul, Pennsylvania and Union Pacific, the entire market rose strongly. St. Paul gained a point and other leaders ½ to ¾. United States Steel preferred sold off again to 75⅞ and the whole market yielded. Pacific Coast rose 2¾.

A buoyant upshot in St. Paul and Pacifics, on enormous dealings, checked the reaction. St. Paul was rushed up to 162¾ and Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania and Illinois Central rose 1 to 1¼. The response elsewhere was not marked and the United States Steel preferred fell back to the low level. Erie and some of the cotton carriers were held back by realizing on yesterday's advance.

Bonds were firm at noon.

Continuous selling went on throughout the market, despite the sensational advances in St Paul and the large demand for other western stocks. St. Paul touched 164⅛ before its advance was checked. Meanwhile, Wabash, United States Steel and a few others sold fractionally below yesterday's closing and Delaware & Hudson, Metropolitan Street Railway, United States Steel preferred and Tennessee Coal to the extent of a point. A relapse in St. Paul to 163 undermined other strong stocks and a large part of the earlier rise in the grangers and Pacifics was wiped out. At 1 o'clock, St. Paul was rising buoyantly again and had touched 164⅝. The Pacifics moved up again to the highest in sympathy, and the general market was showing a better tone.

The cotton carriers were bought extensively after the earlier profit-taking sales had been completed. Missouri Pacific led the movement and its rise of 1⅝ was followed by a general improvement in the Gould stocks. St. Paul moved earatically at intervals, but generally touched a higher level after each setback. By 2 o'clock it had reached 167. Union Pacific was selling at $1.04¾, but there was not much alteration in other prominent stocks.

WHEAT RATES FROM THE COAST

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 4.—The Northern Pacific has announced that, commencing Oct. 5, the rate on wheat to St. Louis will be 52½ cents, or equal to the present rate to Chicago.

The rate will also apply to East St. Louis, Ill., and is concurred in by the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Co. and the Great Northern from points in their respective territories.

JAPANESE REFUGEES DEPORTED

Arrive in Berlin Where Friends Are Not Allowed to See Them.

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—Seven hundred Japanese refugees from Russia arrived in Berlin today. The Japanese minister, a committee of the Red Cross society and missionaries gathered at the switching yard to greet the refugees, but were not allowed to approach the train, the railroad authorities affirming that it would be contrary to the regulations to permit non-employes to cross the tracks. The refugees sail from Bremen for home Oct. 20.

DONOVAN COMMISSION CO. ON THE MARKETS.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—It looks like a clear case of heavy, heavy hangs over your head Mr. Bull. Stocks in sight are piling up, just because there isn't enough demand for the actual stuff from the bread-eating public, and there isn't enough demand for the speculative stuff from the speculative public. Neither can stand for the price. Foreigners won't buy our breadstuffs and domestic consumption must have turned to breakfast foods. What's the result? We are accumulating supplies and there isn't enough speculation to make light of it. So what are you going to do about it? Eat it yourself? I think what will be done about it will be a red flag sale if something doesn't come along to bring the big betters in as buyers. So I must tell you again to sell this wheat when it gets a boost from bulls or bears who buy on heavy bulges. That's a pretty heavy load the corn bulls are carrying if anyone asks you. When it comes to booming a market loaded down with a two and a half billion crop it's a hard job. Some one else can have the job. I prefer selling it on hard spots and I want my friends to do the same. Repeat the dose for oats. There's too many of them.

LOCAL STOCKS IN BETTER DEMAND

Sales in the General List Improve and Prices Show an Advancing Tendency.

RAILWAYS PREFERRED HIGHER

This Stock Gains a Full Point on Quite Active Buying Orders.

Prices in general were on the upturn at the session of the local stock exchange today and the general list figured more prominently in the trading than has been the case in several sessions past. The traction issues were again quite active and in preferred stock considerable of an improvement was noticeable.

Transit sold to the extent of 440 shares at $8.25, compared to a late sale yesterday at $8.12½, but in the preferred issue the stock was taken in hand and on the transfer of 296 shares advanced to $61.62½, showing a gain from the sale price of yesterday of over a point. On the advance the stock encountered quite heavy selling and the price reacted to sales at $61 and closed the session in liberal demand at this figure. The bonds of the company were in fair demand at a fractional advance from yesterday.

Trading in the bank and trust issues was quite sharp at times and prices made gains. Missouri Trust was active and on sales of 268 shares sold up to $130, showing a gain for the session of ½ a point. Mechanics' National Bank was also strong spot on sales at $277 and American Central Insurance was stationary at $227.50. National Bank of Commerce was strong, although no sales in this issue were recorded the price being bid up to $293.50 with no offerings in sight under $295.

In the balance of the list prices were well maintained, although the sales were light, the transfers being confined to Central Coal and Coke common at $63.50 and two odd sales in the bond list.

DEATH IN JUMP FROM TRAIN

Man Who Resided Here Has Trouble With Conductor and Dies.

A man who gave his name as Fred G. Smith of 3219 Laclede avenue died at Litchfield, Ill., as the result of a jump from a fast moving Wabash train Sunday morning.

Smith, it is said, had trouble with the conductor of the train, who told him he would be taken care of at Litchfield.

Fearing that he would be put off the train or turned over to the authorities, it is thought Smith jumped just before reaching the station. The train was running at a high rate of speed. Smith was found almost unconscious.

At 3219 Laclede avenue it was stated that Fred G. Smith and wife had occupied the house until a few weeks ago.

It is thought Smith was on his way to Chicago. Mrs. Smith is living with a sister in Hammond, Ind.

HEAVINESS SHOWN BY WHEAT

Attempts to Bull or Sustain Prices Futile So Much Pressing for Sale.

THE COARSE GRAINS ARE DULL

Declines in All Foreign Wheat Markets and Large Increases in Supplies.

Heaviness in the speculative wheat market was even more pronounced, the lack of outside business only too apparent and professionals not so unanimously bullish, as evidenced by increased selling. Outside scarcity of choice wheats, for which strong prices obtainable, and only a few cars then wanted, the cash market held out no encouraging features. Milling demands limited as flour trade generally poor. Foreign markets were all lower and apparently not a bit alarmed over prospects for small supplies. Argentine and Indian crop news favorable and Australian better. Enormous increases in available supplies the world over reported by Bradstreet's indicated requirements below offerings. These conditions are beginning to tell on speculation and the speculative market. They told so heavily today that the close was 1¼c below day before and practically at low point for the day. Speculation appears to have pretty near passed up coarse grain in the local market. Trading is extremely light and changes in price few and small. Certainty that a big corn crop will be cut and the knowledge that the greatest visible of oats in many years has accumulated makes the bull side hard to bull. Cash offerings small of corn, but demand light as also for oats.

WHEAT—It took nearly ten minutes to open the St. Louis market, in the meanwhile December being offered as low as $1.17⅝ and then bid up to $1.18. No buyers at the former and no sellers at latter showed how nervous and uncertain the trade is, and also that no outside orders in the market. Opening trading was at $1.17⅝, an advance of ⅛@¼c, as Chicago then stronger. When latter weakened selling became so pressing here that December sold down to $1.17. May opened ⅛@¼c lower at $1.17⅝c and sold off to $1.17.

No encouragement was obtainable from the cables unless it was that a cargo of Pacific coast wheat sold to France. Liverpool opened ⅛d lower, lost ⅛d more, reacted ⅛@⅜d, but lost most that later. London was ⅛@¼d lower and Paris off ⅛c. Weather was cold with snow in Winnipeg, but settled otherwise, and receipts large at Minneapolis and Duluth, 1183 cars against 1018 cars a year ago. Receipts at St. Louis were 136,400 bu, against 82,700 bu one year ago.

A reaction to $1.17½ for December and $1.17¼ for May followed, but later weakened, principally on the increase last week in the world's visible of 9,897,000 bu. December sold down to $1.16⅞ and was offered at $1.16¾@1.16⅞, May selling at $1.16⅝. Every foreign market reported on showed declines for the day, Liverpool ¼@⅜d, Paris ½c, Berlin ⅛c and Budapest 1⅞c. Primary receipts were 1,387,000 bu, against 1,535,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 1,010,000 bu, against 752,000 bu last year. Clearances in flour and wheat were 27,900 bu.

There was little rally to the market subsequently and they were shortlived. A good many bulls were busy unloading and their selling caused a still further decline so poor the buying. December sold at $1.16½ and closed at $1.16½@1.16⅝ bid; May at $1.16⅝, and that bid at close.

Cash market—Steady for the few cars choice offered, but dull and heavy otherwise. Milling demands limited, both local and outside, and most offerings carried over. By sample delivered—No. 2 red at $1.19½ local and $1.20 destination; No. 3 red at $1.10 for western to $1.15@1.18 for nearby; No. 4 at 95c to $1.12; rejected at 87@95c; No. 2 hard at $1.13@1.14, and fancy, $1.15; No. 3 hard at 99c to $1.12 for poor to choice; No. 4 hard at 85c to $1.04.

CORN—Freezing weather in the extreme Northwest made prospects for a chill and perhaps frosts in northern sections of the corn belt. This had a bullish influence in Chicago, but the only effect in the local market was to draw bids of 47¼c for December and May, these little changed from yesterday's close. Liverpool was dull and declined ⅛. Receipts here were only 10,800 bu, against 46,800 bu a year ago.

December was offered later at 47@47¼c, but opened at 47¼c and subsequently sold at 47¼c. May not mentioned. Liverpool showed no change in price for the day. A decrease of 1,407,000 bu at points outside the visible last week was indicated by Bradstreet's. Primary receipts were 262,000 bu, against 662,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 276,000 bu, against 876,000 bu last year. Clearances were nothing.

A further weakening was seen later, December selling at 47c and May offered at 47@47½c. At close 47c bid for former.

Cash market—Little on sale and stronger prices obtainable. By sample delivered—No. 2 at 54c; No. 3 at 53½c; No. 2 yellow at 54¼c; No. 2 white nominally 55¼@56c; No. 3 white at 54½@55c; No. 4 white at 53c.

OATS—Firmness was seen this morning in the future market, 31¼c being bid for December and 33⅜c for May as Chicago stronger, but no trading here and little interest shown. Receipts were 39,150 bu, against 66,150 bu one year ago.

During balance of forenoon futures were neglected. The increase at points outside the visible last week was 327,000 bu, so Bradstreet's indicated. Primary receipts were 863,000 bu, against 662,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 260,000 bu, against 876,000 bu last year. Clearances were 153,000 bu.

No attempt was made to trade after noon hour and close entirely nominal.

Cash market—Easy and slow sale, though at lower prices more buying. By sample, delivered—No. 2 at 32c and choice 33c; No. 3 at 31½@32c; No. 4 at 30c and colony, 31c; No. 2 white at 34@34½c; No. 3 white at 32½@33½c; No. 4 white at 30@32c; cereal at 29½c; no-grade at 28c.

RYE—Higher, so little for sale. No. 2 sold local at 77½c. No. 3 quotable at 74@75c.

Trade Topics.

Broomhall cabled that a cargo of blue stem (Pacific coast) wheat sold to France at 37s, equal to $1.11. That price looks cheap by comparison with the prices ruling in the markets east of the Rockies, especially when the cost of ocean transportation from the Pacific coast to Europe is considered.

In September, 1903, Galveston cleared 3,224,300 bu wheat. This September only 32,000 bu was exported. This saving on the crop is going on steadily at all our ports.

Minneapolis wires: One of the largest elevator operators says one of his men advises that heavy movement of wheat is over with now until weather freezes.

Beatrice, Neb., says that farmers around there are husking corn and putting it in cribs.

Bradstreet's reports 4,997,000 bu increase last week in available wheat stocks of this country and Canada east of the Rockies, indicating an increase of 2,624,000 bu at points outside the official visible, against a total increase of 4,028,000 bu for same week last year, including 1,784,000 bu increase at outside points. European supplies afloat and in markets increased 4,900,000 bu last week, against 8,900,000 bu increase a year ago. The world's available increased 9,897,000 bu last week, where increasing 12,928,000 bu a year ago. Corn available decreased 1,839,000 bu last week, against 1,298,000 bu increase a year ago. Oats available increased 2,117,000 bu last week, against 43,000 bu increase last year.

The following is a condensation of foreign crop conditions, as published in Broomhall Liverpool Corn Trade News: United Kingdom and France—Weather most favorable; farmers holding their wheat firmly. Germany—Good rains have fallen. Offerings native grain large and continue to increase in volume. Better reports received regarding forage and the potato crops. Hungary—Weather favorable for seeding. Roumania—Fall seeding progressing rapidly. Supplies of grain continue to decrease. Russia—Weather conditions generally favorable. Supplies at some ports large, while others have decreased from a month ago. India and Argentine—Crop reports continue favorable. Australia—Latest news is that drouth was complete, but only partial in effect.

FLOUR—A very quiet trade. Domestic demands limited and no show for export business will Europe. Soft winters in wood: Patent, $5.75@5.90; straight, $5.50@5.65; extra fancy, $5.35@5.45; clears, $3.25@3.75; hard and winters in jute sacks, $4.90@5.25; straight, $4.30@4.60; bakers, $3.60@4.10; low grades, $2.80@3.30.

MILLFEED—Steady and in demand at recent decline. Basis east track and in 100s, bran at 81c for hard to 85c for soft winter; mixed feed at 86@88c for hard to 88@90c for soft winter; mids at 95@97c for brown and $1.02@1.04 for white. West side in 100s, bran at 85c and mids at $1.10 for soft winter. At mill bran jobs at 88@90c and ships at $1.10@1.15.

HAY—Larger receipts, mainly of low and medium grades, for which really no demand. Best grades scarce and firm. Basis east track: Timothy, $12.50 for choice, $10.50@11.50 for No. 1 and $8@9.50 for No. 2; $6@7 low grade. Clover mixed at $9@9.50 for No. 1 and $7.50@8.50 for No. 2; prairie, $9@9.50 for No. 1, $7@7.50 for No. 2 and $5@6 for low grade; clover, $12.50 for No. 1 and $10@11 for No. 2.

STRAW—On track, wheat, $5@5.50; oats, $6; rye, $7@8.

FLAXSEED—St. Louis—Lower at $1.09 bid spot or to arrive prompt shipments.

Chicago—Northwestern, $1.16 bid; southwestern, $1.16 bid; Oct., $1.10; Dec., $1.13 asked.

Duluth—October, $1.15½ bid; December, $1.15½.

Minneapolis—Cash, $1.14½.

LINSEED OIL—Car lots, 36c for raw and 37c for boiled.

PORK—New standard mess, f. o. b. closed at $11.95.

LARD—Choice steam east side closed at 7¼c; kettle-rendered, 8@8⅛c.

BACON—Boxed s. c. meats, jobbing: Breakfast bacon, 11c for heavy to 14c for choice light; hams, 11½@12½c. California, 8¾@9c; New York hams, 8¾c. Plain smoked boxed lots, jobbing way: Extra shorts, 9⅝c; ribs, 9⅝c; short clears, 9⅝c; bellies, 10¼@11c; plates, 8c; fat backs, 8c; standard backs, 10¼c. Higher on orders.

COUNTRY LARD—At 4@5c.

OLEOSTEARINE—Nominal at 8c.

TALLOW—Country—No. 1, 4⅜c; No. 2, 4@4¼c; packers' prime, 4⅝@5¼c.

GREASE—Small, irregular lots country: Brown, 3@3½c; yellow, 3¼@3½c, and white, 3¾@4c, latter for choice.

LEAD—Steady and firm, with buyers at $4.12½; holders very firm.

SPELTER—Quiet, but quotable at $4.95.

TO HIS PHONE HE OWES A FORTUNE

Henry Haalser Used Long Distance to Beat Telegraph and Won on Races Easily.

MADE $50,000 IN A FEW WEEKS

Then Police Found Out About It, Because His Wires Were Strung to Trees.

Henry Haaker, who says he has made $50,000 for himself and confederates in a few weeks, was fined $100 in the City Hall police court Tuesday on the charge of idling.

For an idler Haaker has been quite busy and fairly successful. He has been beating race results to Philadelphia by long-distance telephone, and with the aid of confederates in that city has been getting a good deal of money.

Haaker has been staying at 6240 Clemens avenue. His window commanded a very good view of the homestretch of the track. With the aid of field glasses he has been able to distinguish the colors of the jockeys and determine the winners. His room was connected with Philadelphia by long distance telephone.

His method has been to telephone the race results to Philadelphia ahead of the telegraphed results, and enable his friends there to make "killings."

He was arrested Friday at the Clemens avenue house while he was in the act of telephoning the result of a race to Philadelphia.

Not only had he been able to get results to Philadelphia almost as soon as the races were finished, but in cases where the winner distanced the rest of the field it had been his custom to anticipate and get the result into Philadelphia before the race was over, banking on the leading horse to win.

He told the detectives that he and his confederates had made $50,000 in a short time without other expense than telephone tolls and without violating the law against wire-tapping, as they did not operate that way.

He could not be charged with wire tapping, so a charge of idling was entered against him. If he had proven a settled place of abode he would probably have beaten the case, but he did not take the trouble to do that.

The racetrack people have supposed that the wires were being tapped. Suspicion was drawn to the Clemens avenue house by the fact that Haaker's telephone wire was strung to the trees instead of to poles.

TOT AGREES WITH PET DOG THAT BIRTHDAY PARTY OPENS NEW WORLD

IVY LEACH

Belleville Orphan of Four Years Has Life Cast in Pleasan Places Since Her Adoption Into a New Home Surrounded by New Friends.

Little Ivy Leach of Belleville has good reason to reflect that her life has been cast in pleasant places.

A little more than a year ago she had no parents and no home, and the world seemed a very dismal and inhospitable place, indeed.

But now she has a good home and kind parents and a pet dog, and her happiness has been completed by a birthday party.

Before she was 3 years old Ivy was left without a parental pliar to cling to, and her distressing plight enlisted the sympathy of many in Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Leach were without a child and they took Ivy into their home. She has entwined herself in their affections, and no parents in Belleville are more proud of with better reason, of their own flesh and blood than Mr. and Mrs. Leach are of their adopted daughter.

Until Monday Ivy had never, to all practical purposes, had a birthday. That is, she had never had a birthday party, and a birthday without a birthday party is not worth while at 4 years.

She was 4 Monday, and she entertained at the Leach residence on East Main street the little friends she has made since Mr. and Mrs. Leach gave her a new home and a new name.

Her guests were Grace, Gladys and Ruth Bertram, Pearl Hartnagel, Sybil and Avis Miller, Esther Adams, Anita Storck, Beatrice Adams, Harold Smith, Mollie Pazon, Cleda Smith, Ruth Henry and Ruth Behymer.

And after they had gone Ivy and her pet dog agreed that they never had such a day before.

LIBERTY STATUE'S DESIGNER DEAD

Frederick August Bartholdi, Whose Masterpiece Is in New York Harbor, Victim of Tuberculosis.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—Frederick Auguste Bartholdi, the sculptor who designed the Statue of Liberty, presented to the American nation by the people of France in 1885, died this morning of quick tuberculosis. He was about 65 years of age.

Bartholdi's ideal was the big things. He considered the Statue of Liberty, one of the largest single figures in the world, as one of his masterpieces.

The Statue of Liberty on which Bartholdi's popular reputation in America rests, was designed after the French people had determined to give to America a centennial present typifying the progress of the United States during her first 100 years as a nation. The money for the work was raised by popular subscription, no large amounts being received.

When the completion of the enterprise was assured and it was decided to locate it in the New York harbor, a commission was appointed to build a pedestal and the work was begun, but at the last moment the effort to secure an appropriation from Congress to complete the work failed, and March 16, 1885, the New York World undertook to raise $100,000 to finish the work.

This subscription was completed Aug. 11 and represented the gifts of 120,000 people.

The success of this subscription was assured when the French cruiser Isere reached New York bearing the statue on May 6.

The pedestal was completed and the balance from the overflow was expended for a handsome silver testimonial for the designer, when he visited New York, Oct. 11, 1886, to be present at the unveiling of his great work.

NO SPACE; AD MEN CROWDED OUT

Organ Recital in Festival Hall Prevents Holding of Opening of Convention There.

The International Advertisers' Association was crowded out of its advertised meeting place, Festival Hall, at the World's Fair, Tuesday morning by an organ recital, and was forced to hold its first session in Recital Hall. It made amends for this difficulty in the afternoon, however, by securing possession of the big hall and having a recital of its own, with Charles Galloway at the big organ.

President Francis was to have addressed the advertising men at the morning session, but the death of his uncle caused him to cancel this with other engagements. Secretary Stevens attended the session, but was asked to defer his welcome until the afternoon session.

Tuesday morning's session was under the auspices of the St. Louis Ad Men's League, and Frank L. Osborne, president of the league, presided. The speakers were: H. H. Paramore of Indianapolis, "Tom" Murray of Chicago, E. G. Lewis of St. Louis, and H. F. McGarvie, manager of the department of exploitation at the World's Fair.

Tuesday afternoon the speakers on the program were Col. Charles Arthur Carlisle of South Bend, Ind.; Phil A. Crowne of New York and Chicago, and Lafayette Young, publisher of the Des Moines Capital.

After the afternoon session the delegates will be the guests of E. G. Lewis, and later will take special trolley cars for the downtown section of the city, where they will be sidetracked for a view of the Veiled Prophet's parade.

Wednesday evening the delegates will be entertained at a banquet at the Jefferson Hotel. The convention will continue through Thursday.

WOMEN ARE FIRST ON ITALIAN LIST

President of Royal Commission Will Pay Tribute as Host to American Beauty.

American women, whom he considers the most wonderful creatures in the new world, will be the first guests tendered a reception by M. Angelo Pavia, president of the royal Italian commission of the World's Fair.

M. Pavia recently arrived in St. Louis after a visit to several cities of the United States. He was chosen vice-president from Italy for the Universal Congress of Lawyers and Jurists, and at the congress discussed the question of international divorce. He is a leading member of the Italian chamber of deputies and has made special study of the divorce question.

His visit to America was to study the people of the country, and, in his studies, he has learned to admire American women.

"American women seem to be comrades of their husbands and their men relatives," said M. Pavia. "Not only have they beauty, but they have intelligence and knowledge of many subjects. We Italians have been accustomed to look upon women as beautiful creatures whom it is a pleasure to admire. The American woman gives us a new view.

"Your women who work are wonderfully interesting. They command respect by their manner and their knowledge. Because of the great interest American women have evoked in me I intend to entertain them first in the Italian pavilion.

"It may be the custom to give entertainments just for women. It may not be. It is my intention to do so nevertheless.

"Our Italian day celebration will be held Oct. 15. Two days before, Oct. 13, I shall entertain the women of St. Louis."

It is M. Pavia's plan to have the Italian pavilion beautifully decorated with flowers and Italian flags. A poem which he has written in regard to the beauty of the World's Fair, the moonlight of St. Louis, the lagoons, Christopher Columbus and his love for his native land, will be read in French and English.

The celebration for Italian day will include the full day. A large flag symbolic of the friendship between Italy and the United States will be presented to the city of St. Louis in the morning program by M. Pavia. Members of all the Italian societies in the United States will be present at the exercises.

Addresses will be made by President Francis, Mayor Wells and M. Pavia. A reception will be held in the afternoon. Dinner for a large number of guests will follow.

A program of music will be held in Festival Hall and the day will terminate in a typical Italian manner with a lagoon fete. At the exercises in the Italian pavilion songs of Italy will be sung.

Chevalier Vittorio Zeggio of the Italian commission is at present in the West extending invitations to the Italian societies to come to St. Louis on Italian day.

M. Pavia will be assisted by M. Branchi, M. Giordana, M. Alfani and M. A. Zeggio.

DEATH DEFRAUDED BY HALF A FOOT

Farmer Hurled From Wagon and Thrown Outside Rails as Street Car Whizzes By.

Batise Germont, a French Village farmer, returning home after selling a wagon load of truck, missed death by less than six inches Tuesday.

When it was all over he could not believe he had escaped. He thought there must be a mistake. He felt no pain, but was sure he was hurt. He found a policeman.

"I must be hurt somewhere," he said. "It isn't possible that I got off without injury."

The policeman took Germont to the North End Dispensary, and there the doctors went over him carefully, seeking bruises and broken bones. They found none.

Germont was going north on Broadway, a single horse drawing his covered truck wagon. He was following the northbound track.

Near Dickson street he saw a southbound Broadway car coming. At the same moment he heard the gong of a northbound car behind him. He turned his horse's head to the east, expecting to pull out of the track in time.

But the horse was slow and the northbound car struck the back of the wagon. Germont was thrown violently from his seat to the ground and with such momentum that his body rolled upon the southbound track, across it and stopped not more than six inches beyond the outside rail.

The southbound car was approaching at full speed; Germont, lying helpless beside the track, thought there was no hope for him. He was frozen with fear, and made no move.

The car whized toward him. The fender—the front platform—the yellow body of the car—passed like a saffron streak over his head; the clatter of the wheels and the rattle of the trucks dinned at his ear. Then the car was gone.

Germont lay perfectly still after the car had passed. There seemed to him no chance that he had escaped, and he declares that he thought he had been killed.

When the crew of the northbound car hurried to him he felt no pain, but insisted upon being examined. There was not a scratch or bruise about him.

The wagon and horse were not badly damaged.

MAYOR AT WORK ON NEW BILL

Appropriation Measure Replacing One Defeated in House of Delegates Is Being Prepared.

Mayor Wells and other city officials are engaged in drafting a new bill to take the place of the bill authorizing the issuance of bonds to the amount of $9,000,000 for improvements to city buildings and the erection of new buildings, which failed of passage in the House of Delegates. The new bill will provide that the matter come before the voters at the April election. It is pointed out that no time would be gained by a special election, which would cost the city fully $100,000.

Fireworks Postponed.

Owing to the Veiled Prophet parade and ball this evening, the great fireworks display of the Bombarding of Port Arthur, the Manhattan Beach attraction, by Pain, at the Stadium in the World's Fair grounds, will be given Thursday evening instead of tonight. Thursday is German day at the Exposition.

NO BLOWS; ONLY LOUD SNORES

Policeman Who Found Frightened Wife on Doorstep, Loath to Accept Husband's Theory.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 4.—John Orboin of 62 Pierpont street, charged with assault today by his wife, told Judge Dow that the only way he could account for a policeman finding his wife terror-stricken, barefooted, with a 4-months-old child in her arms, in the street at 2 o'clock Sunday morning was due to his snoring so loudly.

Mrs. Orboin said that she did not wish to testify against her husband.

The policeman testified that Mrs. Orboin had to be almost forced into the house. The policeman awakened Orboin and he insisted that he had gone to sleep early Saturday night and that was the last he remembered. The case was continued for further investigation of the snoring theory.

St. Louisan Killed by Train.

LITCHFIELD, Ill., Oct. 4.—Fred G. Smith, who gave his address as 3219 Laclede avenue, St. Louis, where he recently conducted a boarding house, was fatally injured by falling from a northbound train here. He died in St. Francis Hospital. His home was formerly in Kansas City.

KILL THE FEVER GERMS

As cooler weather advances homes are more and more closed from a free circulation of air, and fever germs begin to thrive.

Every crack and cranny is a lurking place for microscopic organisms—a menace to health and life.

Preclude the possibility of fall fevers in your home by the liberal use of harmless, efficient C-N.

Use C-N around the plumbing, in dark corners, in every crevice where danger lurks. Pour it into the sink and bath room, sprinkle it in the cellar, turn it into the garbage can.

It is true economy to use C-N freely; the ounce of prevention saves many a pound of cure.

A ten-cent trial bottle of C-N will make a full gallon of cleansing, purifying, germ-killing disinfectant. Use it in your fall house cleaning.

Your dealer sells it. Send for sample.

"Your Money's Worth or Money Back."

Two severe cases of Ovarian Trouble and two terrible operations avoided. Mrs. Emmons and Mrs. Coleman each tell how they were saved by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am so pleased with the results obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I feel it a duty and a privilege to write you about it.

"I suffered for more than five years with ovarian troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge, a great weakness, and at times a faintness would come over me which no amount of medicine, diet, or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound found the weak spot, however, within a few weeks—and saved me from an operation—all my troubles had disappeared, and I found myself once more healthy and well. Words fail to describe the real, true, grateful feeling that is in my heart, and I want to tell every sick and suffering sister. Don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and take my word for it, you will be a different woman in a short time."—MRS. LAURA EMMONS, Walkerville, Ont.

Another Case of Ovarian Trouble Cured Without an Operation.

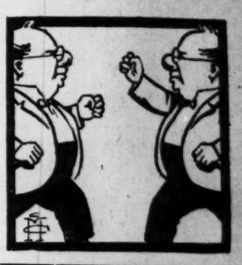
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For several years I was troubled with ovarian trouble and a painful and inflamed condition, which kept me in bed part of the time. I did so dread a surgical operation.

"I tried different remedies hoping to get better, but nothing seemed to bring relief until a friend who had been cured of ovarian trouble, through the use of your compound, induced me to try it. I took it faithfully for three months, and at the end of that time was glad to find that I was a well woman. Health is nature's best gift to woman, and if you lose it and can have it restored through Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel that all suffering women should know of this."—MRS. LAURA BELLE COLEMAN, Commercial Hotel, Nashville, Tenn.

It is well to remember such letters as above when some druggist tries to get you to buy something which he says is "just as good." That is impossible, as no other medicine has such a record of cures as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; accept no other and you will be glad.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her and she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.



Funny, isn't it, that folks who are at odds with one another are forever trying to get even with each other?

The single-breasted style has nearly always been at variance with the double-breasted style suit. Yet, they're always trying to get even on the matter of buttons. This summer many two-button double-breasted sacks were worn, while the three-button single-breasted sack was quite popular, too. This Fall the double-breasted sack tries to get even by using three buttons, but the single-breasted style goes one better, as it's now being worn with four buttons.

But neither style is at its best unless MacCarthy-Evans made—$25 to $40.
